$4 Month Sewer Charge Suggested

By POLITICUS

Residents of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District will probably find themselves facing a sewer use charge of from $2 to $4 per month and an increased operating tax.

Although directors took no action Tuesday night, they indicated that they must find immediate alternate means of financing work that would have been done if the recent $4 million bond issue had passed.

Bob Kahn of Lafayette recommended that the board take the following action:

1. PROHIBIT FURTHER connections to the sewer system until such time as the conditions complained of by the Water Pollution Board, East Bay Municipal Utility District and others is corrected.

2. Increase the tax levied for operating funds to the maximum of 60 cents per $100 assessed valuation and maintain it at that rate until the situation is corrected.

3. Institute a sewer use charge of $48 per year.

Kahn explained the sewer use charge by saying:

"I RECOMMEND $48 PER YEAR because this will come to an even $4 per month. Since sewer service is a utility—just as much as water, gas or electricity—there is no reason why it shouldn't be charged on the same basis."

Kahn charged that the bond issue failed largely because of the Pleasant Hill area and especially because the Pleasant Hill Civic Council did not lend its support. He also pointed out that an area throwaway had strongly opposed the measure.

He attacked the Pleasant Hill group (see separate story) for "railroading" a disapproval of the bond issue and charged that members "never asked us to appear . . . at a time when we could have constructively discussed the problems with them."

KAHN STATED, "It is unfortunate that such a situation must arise. The proposal originally made (by the board of directors) when you presented the bond issue to the district, was that the people benefiting in the future should also pay part of the cost. On that basis you proposed a bond issue running over a 33 year period."

He pointed out that under his recommendations the work can be done in approximately five years, but that it would place a heavy burden on the present homeowners.

"IT IS ALSO UNFORTUNATE," Kahn continued, "that application of a sewer use charge will place an undue burden on the residents of the Pleasant Hill area because they represent some 49 per cent of the connections—but I believe the board should recognize that they generate approximately 49 per cent of the sewage the district must dispose of."

Informed observers have pointed out that this system is not as equitable as the bond issue in that the load must be born by the present homeowners, and in a large part, by present sewer users.

This, observers have noted, places a large share of that burden on the more heavily populated areas such as Pleasant Hill.

BOARD PRESIDENT Elliot Johnson asked Kahn to file the report with the board, commenting "It contains some interesting suggestions."

The board indicated that they would take some sort of action in the near future by denying "without prejudice" two of three new annexation requests. Members commented that they did not see how they could justifiably add to the present load until the system is expanded and necessary corrections are made.

Kahn, who was a member of the Citizens Advisory Committee to the Sanitary District and a member of the Committee for Sanitary District Bonds, attacked J. B. McFarland, chairman of the Pleasant Hill Civic Council, noting that he had publicly voted against the bond issue.

KAHN SAID he "has several times mentioned that he voted against supporting it because he felt that we had not done a proper educational job.

"It is apparent from his comments that if we on the committee . . . had just been smart enough to copy his local PTA program of supporting their school bond issue, that we would have struck gold with him and would have received his support.

"He has stated that he knows that the situation must be corrected and that a bond issue is necessary—and, despite that, he voted against support because he didn't like the particular method we picked of presenting the situation.

"It was necessary to advise him (McFarland) that I personally would not take part in the support of another general obligation bond issue campaign. I told him frankly that his group—referring to the Pleasant Hill residents and the Pleasant Hill Civic Council—had defeated the issue—and if they wanted a bond issue as a sensible way of handling the financing of the problem, he—and not I—would have to be the Committee for the Bond Issue."

Excavation for Overpass Causes Land Slide on Brookwood Road This Week

A two-family residence on Brookwood was threatened Sunday when huge sections of the street collapsed as a result of excavation for the Orinda Overpass.

The slide was halted after four bulldozers, called into emergency operation, backfilled 2000 yards of dirt into the excavation. Wednesday concrete sections were poured to prevent any further occurrence of the slide and the homes were considered out of danger by the contractors, Morrison-Knudsen Company and Frederickson and Watson Company, both of Oakland.

The slide was apparently caused by the excavation for an underground drainage culvert to be installed in connection with the overpass. A 350 foot extension to a cement box, through which San Pablo Creek will flow, is being constructed at a new angle to help fill the undercut which caused the slide.

"WE ARE WORKING AS FAST as we possibly can to alleviate the situation," said Robert F. Calou, construction superintendent. "The last rain did this to us."

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Stidham, occupants of the lower portion of the white frame house at 16 Brookwood Road, said they noticed cracks in the walls when they got up Sunday morning.

CONCRETE STEPS LEADING to the quarters of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Young, who occupy the upper portion of the two-family residence, were pulled apart and the walls between the Stidham's and Young's residences were split apart two inches.

The garage floor had also cracked open.

A 50 foot section of Brookwood Road five feet wide dropped six feet, threatening to carry with it a power pole and telephone lines.

COUNTY ENGINEER PHIL MEAD, State Project Engineer Don Young, representatives of the contractors, PG&E linemen, firemen and deputy sheriffs were called out Sunday.

Young explained that no major realignment of the culvert is necessary, but they are working out a minor shift now of approximately 15 or 20 feet. He said it might delay the overpass project for a short time, but would not interfere with the overall progress to any real extent.

After the culvert has been built, the ground will be filled over it and Brookwood Road can be re-established with no further danger of sliding.

Kids Will Have Summer Program Of Recreation

Orinda School District trustees decided Monday night to institute a six-week recreation program for school children this summer under the direction of Frank Isola, district physical education director.

Under the plan, supervised games and general play will be conducted from June 28 to August 5.

Hours and location were not decided upon, but Superintendent of Schools Joseph L. Sheaff said the program will probably be held only at Orinda School.

In other actions, the school board:

1. SCHEDULED a meeting May 17 with community organizations for discussion of school construction problems.

Sheaff said that each organization is being asked to send a representative to the meeting, for discussion with trustees and Architect Jack Buchter. Plans for the Pine Grove upper grade school will be on the agenda, with the view of getting ideas on the most economical construction.

According to Sheaff, five organizations have already submitted names of representatives.

2. NAMED as principals, effective next school year, Miss Cynthia Knox, fourth grade teacher at Orinda School, and Glen McNicholas, sixth grade teacher at Glorietta School.

One will be principal at Sleepy Hollow School and the other at Del Rey School, but decision as to where each will be principal has not yet been made.

Sheaff explained that the reasons for the appointments are that Isola, now Sleepy Hollow School principal, will devote his full time to physical education directorship for the district and that Philip Lambert, now Del Rey School principal, will devote all his time to being district curriculum coordinator. The two now function in these duties as well as being principals.

3. HIRED Gerald Meeder of Berkeley as full-time instrumental music teacher for the district.

Heard the district enrollment figure as of Monday reported at 1698.

Cancer Campaign Reaches $17,000

A total of $17,334 has been raised in the Cancer Society fund drive to date, County Chairman Irving Magill of Walnut Creek announced last week.

The figure represents 86 per cent of the county goal and is "better than we've done before by this time," Magill said.

With a national quota of $20 million, 60 per cent remains in the state where it is used for local aid work.

Twenty five per cent is distributed by the national organization in the form of research grants and the other 15 per cent is used by the national organization for the preparation of pamphlets and educational materials.

Lions to Hold Kids' Program

The annual Fathers and Sons-Daughters Night will be held by the Orinda Lions Club at the Willows Wednesday at 7 p.m.

A specially arranged program designed to please the children . . . aged six to 60, according to President Kenneth Courtright, will be under the chairmanship of Tom Snow.

"Raymond, the bird that's more than bird," will perform as he has on TV. Lion member Andrew Blalock is his owner and trainer.

Ventriloquists and magicians Bob Fisher and Kearney Elia have a special act to present. They are proteges of the famous magician S. Juhasy Sheppard, who has brought the Orinda Lions many fine entertainers in the past.

With the issue of May 27, the name of the Contra Costa Shopping News will be changed to Sun Shopping News.

Since this is the shopping news of The SUN newspapers, it is believed that Sun Shopping News is a more appropriate name for it.

Johnson Resigns From Sewer Board; MacPhail Named

Elliott Johnson, president of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District Board of Directors, was expected to resign last night.

As The SUN went to press before the meeting no official action had been taken, but the board was expected to appoint Campbell MacPhail to fill his unexpired term.

Johnson has been a member of the board since the district was formed in 1947. His term would have ended in September.

MacPhail has been active in sanitary district affairs for some time. He was secretary of the Citizens Advisory Committee to the Sanitary District and chairman of the Citizens Committee for Sanitary District Bonds.

He lives in Lafayette with his wife and child, Alec, and is a director of the Lafayette Improvement Association. He is also a director of the Mt. Diablo Highway Improvement Association and has lived in Lafayette since April, 1951.

Norris Tells of Start of Study On Incorporation

Reporting on his first week's work on Orinda's incorporation study, Ken Norris, director of Coro Foundation's consulting service department, informed the Orinda Association's incorporation study committee Monday night that he is using the following figures as a basis for further research:

Approximate population of the Orinda School District—10,000.

Approximate assessed valuation of the Orinda School District—$13 million.

Norris met with Committee Chairman Frank Cayting and committee members Bill Corbett and Tevis Thompson at Ramsay Underwood's real estate office at the Crossroads.

HE TOLD THE group he would continue working in office space of the Contra Costa County Taxpayers Association in Martinez and that among subjects to be studied by him in the near future will be special districts and proposed budgets.

The Orinda Association board recently contracted with the Coro Foundation of San Francisco for a comprehensive study to be made for $800 on advantages, disadvantages, estimated revenues and estimated expenditures of Orinda incorporation. The Orinda School District is to be used as the area under consideration.

No recommendation is to be made by Coro or the association committee. After the report is completed, the committee plans to encourage widespread discussion of it throughout the community, with final decision up to the people.

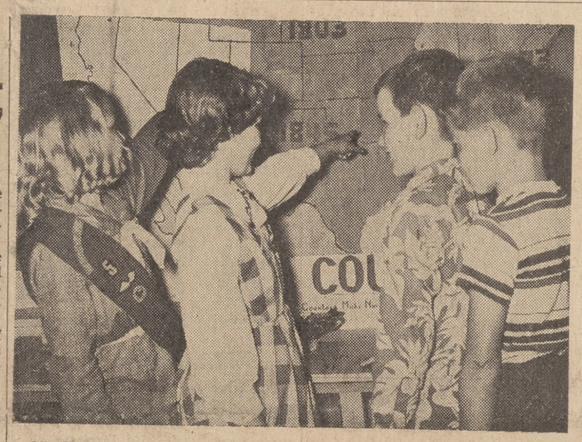
The survey is expected to be completed around the middle of June, with compilation of the report anticipated for fall.

INITIAL PAYMENT of $400 has been made by the association board. The remaining $400, to be paid upon delivery of the report, is being sought from organiaztions throughout Orinda.

At last week's Orinda Association board meeting, it was reported that close to $300 has recently been received from various groups and has been earmarked for the incorporation study fund. The followni sums were mentioned:

Twenty-five dollars from the Moraga Del Rey Community Association; $20 from the Los Amigos Home Owners Association; $100 from the Orinda Country Club; $25 from the Orinda Estates Association; $40 from the Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association; $50 from the Glorietta Improvement Association.

In addition, the Orinda Improvement Association, Inc., had voted to contribute to the incorporation study fund,



OPEN HOUSE at Orinda School last week featured numerous exhibits of student work, as did Open Houses at schools throughout the district. Nejedly Offers Resignation from Sewer Position

John Nejedly, attorney to the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District, offered to resign Tuesday night because "the board might wish to consider another method of handling its legal work."

Board members discussed the matter briefly and agreed that it should be investigated, probably by July 1. The matter would have tobe settled by that time in order for the budget to be drawn up by the July 15 deadline.

DIRECTOR ERNEST SPIEGL said it would be a good idea to postpone discussion on the matter, but told Nejedly "I'd like to have you bring it up again in 30 days."

The manner in which the legal work has been done for the district has been criticized for some time, with many maintaining that it could be performed more economically on a retainer basis. The present attorney is paid $750 per month.

IN OTHER ACTION the board:

1. Held over discussion of the Clayton Valley annexation until June 3, when all protests will be heard individually.

2. Refused without prejudice two small annexations, commenting that alternate financing for necessary district work must be found before annexations are accepted. The proposal for a $4 million bond issue was recently defeated at the polls.

Gov. Knight Tours County, Speaks

Governor Goodwin J. Knight spent a busy day Tuesday campaigning in Contra Costa County.

Included on his agenda were speaking engagement in Walnut Creek and Lafayette, and a reception at the Vad Jelton home in Happy Valley.

Assemblyman Donald Doyle introduced the governor at the Contra Costa Real Estate Mart breakfast at El Nido, at which time the group officially endorsed Knight.

More than 400 campaign workers gathered in the gardens of the Jelton home to meet the governor personally. Children from M. H. Stanley School under the direction of Principal Miss Jane Patorio were present to greet him.

Knight then proceeded to Walnut Creek where he spoke from the steps of the Las Palmas Hotel. He was greeted by the Las Lomas High School band under the baton of director Gordon Gibson.

Newly elected councilman Edward Counter introduced Mayor Elmer Hansen, who presented the governor.

Included in the governor's escort throughout the county were Don H. Bonar, Jack Pedder, Pat Jelton of Lafayette; Merle Brown, George Eberhart and Jane Barrows of Orinda; W. U. Barnes of Moraga; and Edward C. Counter and Jean Marlor of Walnut Creek.

Congress, Sheriff Candidates Invited To SUN-Sponsored Debate at Acalanes

Congressional candidates from the Sixth District and candidates for Contra Costa County sheriff will discuss campaign issues at a Candidates' Debate at Acalanes High School June 2.

Designed to present actual debates on pertinent issues rather than campaign speeches, the affair, sponsored by The SUN, will be held in the gymnasium at 8 p.m.

Invitations have gone out to two Democrats and one Republican who seek the congressional post and to the four major candidates for the non-partisan sheriff's post.

Those congressional candidates invited include Robert L. Condon, the incumbent, and A. L. Day of Concord who seek the Democratic nomination in the June 8 primary election, and John Baldwin, Republican nominee.

The four major candidates for sheriff are Harry A. Brown, John Miller, Fred Nettles and Boyd W. Richardson.

The debate form requires that candidates take and defend a particular side in each issue and discuss all aspects of that issue point by point.

It is in distinct contrast to the usual political speakers' program where each candidate often speaks on a different theme and frequently has no chance to reply to his opponent.

Steps Listed for Readying Referendum Drive in Pine Grove Rezoning Dispute

Detailed explanation by Vice-President Nathan Gray provided additional "ammunition" this week to the Orinda Association's preperations for a referendum petition drive in case the County Board of Supervisors grants East Bay Municipal Utility District's application for Retail Business rezoning of some 52 Crossroads-area acres, including the Pine Grove, prior to completion of a central Orinda master plan.

Recognizing that the County Planning Commission recommendation on the application might come through "at any time," the association board last week took steps to block possible "adverse" action by the commission and the supervisors.

THESE STEPS WERE further clarified in a letter of April 28 from Gray, who is an attorney, to Association President Zach Montgomery.

"At your request," Gray wrote, "I am submitting the following data regarding the steps necessary to suspend the operation of a zoning ordinance adopted by the Board of Supervisors:

"Section 1651 of the Elections Code provides that all ordinances, with certain exceptions not here involved, shall became effective 30 days from the date of final passage.

"Section 1652 provides that if a petition protesting against the adoption of an ordinance is presented to the Board of Supervisors prior to its effective date, the ordinance shall be suspended and the supervisors shall reconsider it.

"THE PETITION shall be signed by voters of the county equal in number to at least 10 per cent of the entire votes cast within the county for all candidates for governor at the last gubernatorial election. (I am informed that the number of such votes was approximately 94,000).

"Section 1653 provides that if the board does not entirely repeal the ordinance, it shall submit it to the voters either at a regular or a special election, and the ordinance shall not become effective unless and until a majority of the voters vote in favor of it.

"SECTION 45 provides that such petitions can only be signed by a voter who is a registered, qualified voter at the time he signs the petition. Each signer shall at the time of signing affix thereto the date of his signing, his place of residence, giving street and number, and if no street or number exists, then a designation of his place of residence which will enable the location to be readily ascertained .

"No such petition may be signed within 100 feet of any election booth, polling place or any place where registration of electors is being conducted.

"At such time as you deem it necessary that we prepare such petition, I will be pleased to handle it for the association."

Chamber to Set Boundaries for Parking District

The Chamber of Commerce Parking Study Committee was authorized Tuesday to establish boundaries for an Orinda Parking District.

Stanley Allen, a member of the committee, reviewed briefly the possible formation of the district and outlined the difficulty, of solving the parking problem on a purely voluntary basis.

He added, that "unless additional parking is supplied for employees, commuters and customers, the Orinda business section will deteriorate."

Dr. Edwin J. McCord, president, authorized the committee to establish boundaries and report at a later meeting.

THE PROPOSED PARKING district would take in only the business sections of Orinda and could be established to include either the Crossroads area, the Village, the "strip" between, or any combination of these.

Property owners Donald Breed and B. A. Howkins were present and asked clarification of several questions.

R. E. Wadsworth showed a new map of the large lot and filled area one block north of Davis Road along the south side of Mt. Diablo Boulevard and noted that it could accommodate about 400 cars and provide room for a bus turnaround and commuter shelter.

HE SUGGESTED THAT it be landscaped under the parking authority, if it is established. He added that the owner, East Bay Municipal Utility District, has not yet been contacted.

Another feasible piece of property for parking is along the creek by Brookwood Road, but this would require extensive filling to become usable.

In other action the chamber:

1. Heard Acalanes High School Principal Stan Walgren explain the basis for the May 21 Acalanes High School tax limit election.

2. Heard Ernest Pohl outline the program of the American Field Service student exchange plan. McCord said that further discussion on this would be held at the next meeting.

3. Voted to allocate $200 toward the cost of the Orinda incorporation study.

Orinda Garden Party Fete For Doctors and Guests

Mills College occupational therapy students, their escorts and many other friends attended a gay garden party at the Orinda home of Dr. and Mrs. Karl J. Deissler last Saturday.

A bright sunny day and the pleasant hillside pool and patio of the Deisslers' Haciendas Road residence was an idyllic setting for the springtime social highlight at which the young collegiate set gathered.

SHARING HONOREE roles at this special event were Miss Diane Smith, new Mills College Student Government president, and Dr. Karl Deissler, who is soon to make an extended world tour. Diane, who is in her junior year, was feted for her recent installation as Mills student head—the first occupational therapy major to receive this distinction.

The college class planned the affair also as a bon voyage to one of their favorite teachers, Dr. Deissler, who is visiting lecturer in general medicine for the occupational therapy repartment.

Dr. Deissler will start his 'round-the-world trip Wednesday, flying first to Japan, then to India and other Far Eastern countries, and on to Europe.

With a life-long interest in the history, art and culture of Japan, Dr. Deissler will spend some time in the more remote sections of that country before continuing his journey.

HE WILL ALSO VISIT hospitals in Europe, where he will interview prospective medical residents and interns for the medical education program at Herrick Hospital in Berkeley, where he is a medical staff member.

The Deisslers, who co-hosted the occasion with Mills College students, opened the grounds of their beautifully appointed Orinda residence to dozens of guests. Party festivities started with swimming in the big outdoor pool, followed by an informal buffet supper at tables set under the trees. A skit presented by the students, and an evening of dancing were also on the program.

SPECIAL GUESTS were Dr. and Mrs. G. R. Turchi, who will very shortly be permanent residents of Orinda, where Dr. Turchi has started practice in general medicine. Now a member of the medical staff of Herrick Memorial Hospital, Dr. Turchi, whose home was in Florence, Italy, studied at the University of Florence Pediatric Hospital. He was a delegate from the World Health Organiaztion of the U.N. to the International Children's Center in Paris, and was for a time at the Swedish Hospital in Seattle.

Mrs. Anne Turchi is director of the Mills College occupational therapy department, where she directs the training of students who wish to enter this work in hospitals and rehabilitation centers.

Dramateurs Open Huxley's 'Gioconda Smile' Tonight

Tonight at 8:30 the Dramateur curtain will rise on the first-nighter performance of Aldous Huxley's "The Gioconda Smile" at the Whittier School, Lincoln and Milvis, Berkeley. Performances will also be given at 8:30 tomorrow night, next Friday night and on Saturday night, May 15.

The thrilling suspense drama of Huxley's story behind the Mona Lisa smile tells of art collector Henry Hutton, played by Bruce Winkworth of Orinda; his love for his young bride, Doris Meade, played by Alice Swenning, and the plot against their lives which almost ends in tragedy through the sunning hands and smile of Janet Spence, played by Dorothy Hanford of Lafayette.

Through the efforts of Dr. Libbard, played by Don Schaefer, and of Nurse Braddock, played by Terry Schralla of Orinda, the tragedy is averted.

The role of General Spence, who affords the comic relief, is played by Ed Woltz of Orinda.

DURING THE PAST two weeks, rehearsals have been stepped up to five nights weekly at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanford in Hidden Valley, Lafayette, and a two-night dress rehearsal at Whittier auditorium.

The set construction committee, under Jim Stanslawsky and Hanford, reports the hammers have been swinging to produce the "Gioconda" set.

Margaret Wiegand, in charge of costumes, has been in conference regularly with Director Carl Rasmussen and the cast. Mrs. Wiegand reports the cooperation of the Bonnie Warren Shop in Pleasant Hill, which is providing the gowns worn by Alice Swenning.

PRODUCER Bette Apgar reports good ticket sales, with the Orinda Children's Art Center sponsoring 100 tickets for the performances of next Friday night and May 15. Some of the children's paintings will be hung in a section of the Art Gallery set up through the courtesy of the Artists Market in Lafayette.

The Art Gallery will be open to Dramateur audiences during intermissions, when coffee will be served.

Promotion and publicity committees report success of the Dramateur Band Wagon which toured Walnut Creek, Lafayette and Orinda last Saturday. The Band Wagon will be on hand in Orinda and Berkeley tomorrow and will have aboard local artist Margaret Ulbrich, who will sketch in charcoal, free of charge, the Dramateur ticket buyers or their children.

THE BAND WAGON will also be in Orinda Sunday to feature Jaspar Allara on the drums a repeat breakfast interview at The Willows with Max Baer over Station KLX at noon.

A backstage chat with professional makeup artist Joseph Picone, who is doing the makeup for the "Gioconda" cast, reveals that little theater makeup is more difficult to do than for the professional stage, due to the less expensive lighting equipment used and a more limited supply of makeup. The most challenging job in the present production, is that of "transforming" 27-year-old Ed Waltz into 80-year-old General Spence.

Please write us news about your family, friends, clubs and interesting events. If you see something important, call at once.

Rotary Invites Foreign Student to Study Here for Year, Allocates Funds

Orinda Rotarians have allocated $650 to bring a foreign high school student, between the ages of 16 and 18, to the United States to attend Acalanes High School for one year.

According to Standish Massey, publicity chairman, no country has been specified and the arrangement will be worked out with the State Department.

Similarly, a reciprocal agreement has been worked out whereby a United States student will spend from six to eight weeks in some foreign country.

THE REASON FOR the time differential, Massey explained, is that Rotarians felt that it might be hard on a European family to support a student for a longer period of time.

The foreign student will live with some Orinda family.

In other action, the Rotarians postponed the annual Rotary Field Day Meet, involving Orinda elementary school, from May 15 to May 22 due to conflicting events.

THE MEET WILL include all kinds of track and field events and will be under the supervision of Frank Isola. It will probably be held at Orinda School, as in the past.

Next Wednesday will be the annual fathers and children luncheon. The program has not yet been announced, but it will be designed to appeal to the youngsters.

Last weekend a May Day dance was held and 27 members and their wives and seven guest couples gathered at the Orinda Country Club to dance to the music of Gordon Heche.

THE PROGRAM WEDNESDAY was provided by Joe Terness of Kaiser Steel Company who showed a color film on the Fontana steel mill and explained how it was growing with the West.

This meeting also marked the third straight month. 14 weeks, actually, that the Orinda group has had perfect 100 per cent attendance.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

Community

The first of the Orinda Community Church's two Sunday services will be held at 9:30 on Mother's Day, with Rev. Fred Morrow and Ray L. Welles sharing the worship leadership and Mrs. Marena Hewitt at the organ. Classes for adults and young people follow this half-hour period.

At the 11 o'clock service, choir participation and sermon by the minister are included. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Popovich are organist and director of music. Theme of the service will fit the day. All younger members of the church are especially invited to accompany their mothers to this service. "Famous Mothers of the Bible" is the subject of Rev. Morrow's sermon.

An educational program graded to the needs of all age groups is available at 9:30, and a repetition is given at the later hour for grades through the third. A nursery for very young children is included at that time.

Seventh and eighth grade young people have rallied enthusiastically for the church's newly initiated Junior Hi Fellowship meeting on Sunday evenings at 5:30.

An active part is being taken by Mr. Welles, and the counsellor is Mrs. William Margerin. The group will elect its own officers. "Big brothers and sisters" of this group are the members of the church's active high school Pilgrim Fellowship meeting Sunday evening from 6:45 to 8:45 ,with Ray Welles as counsellor and Bill Mott Jr. as president.

The Rev. Edward R. Andersen, pastor, will preach at the 8 and 11 o'clock services on the topic, "Your Sorrow Shall Be Turned to Joy."

These are words spoken by Jesus to his disciples at the time they were confused about his coming and going. He said, "A little while, and you shall not see me; and again, a little while, and you shall see me, because I go to the Father."

PEOPLE OF THE COMMUNITY are invited to hear Byron Scherer speak on the subject "Effective Evangelism" tonight at 8 o'clock.

Around Orinda

By CATHY BEDECARRE

BUSY SEASON

If anyone ever asked me, I'd say my pet peeve was the fact that everything always seems to happen at once.

January and February are about the drabest months, and although at first you are glad to relax after the holiday rush, it does bet boring after awhile.

Then, wham! Spring's here, Easter arrives, and the social whirl really becomes a dervish.

FLOWER SHOWS, HOUSE tours, fashion shows, dances, to name a few. We all come out of hibernation with a big bang but I'm beginning to wish it were a more gradual process.

Tomorrow evening a large number of Orindans will be enjoying a wonderful annual event, the dinner dance at Diablo Country Club sponsored by the Orinda Nursery.

This will be the first time we have attended and I am looking forward to seeing all the darling summer dresses twirling around the dance floor. I will try to remember some of them to describe in my next column.

COCKTAIL PARTIES

Many groups will gather at cocktail parties before going to the dance. The Gene Hoppers of Hillcrest Drive will entertain and their guests include the Robert Creightons, Mel Colwells, Fred Switzers, Ken Hildebrandts, Robert Pridemores, George Jacksons, Jack Cunninghams, Peyton Jacobs, James Hills, Karl Rigors and Jack Gregorys and Catherine McGuire and Leonard Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Pearson are serving cocktails to several of their friends on Meadow View Road, including the Messrs. and Mesdames J. Carter, T. Fitch, J. Grant, F. Dunn and W. Hagstrom.

The Cecil Cantrills of Sleepy Hollow will be hosts to several couples attending the dance, includes the Messrs. and Mesdames Richard Leland, Francis Wyatt, Vernon Huddleson, George Carrieres, James Miller, Zach Montgomery, John Maatta and Dr. and Mrs. James Seaman.

Rose and Gene Shurtleff are also entertaining and their guests will be the Messrs. and Mesdames John Bailey, Robert Spott, Raney Reid, Bud de Witt, Jack Kramer, Peter Ponting and Willard Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mirov will have a small cocktail party. Those attending will include Dr. and Mrs. Joseph McCormick, Dr. and Mrs. Glen Heltne, Mr. and Mrs. John Edmund and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Freeman Bishop.

The Gordon Westons and P. N. Delanoys will meet at the El Gavilan Road residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Wilford before the dance. Incidentally the Wilfords enjoyed an Easter week vacation in Palm Springs with their three young children. Lorrie celebrated her fourth birthday on Easter Sunday so really was queen for a day.

Sounds like a busy Saturday night "Around Orinda." Sunday of course will be Mother's Day so maybe the family will indulge Mama and let her sleep to some luxurious hour, like 8 a.m., say.

While I am on the subject let me use an inch of space to say how happy I am to have my own mother and Dad, too, "back home" again. My parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Reid, are settled now in their home on Sara Lane in Walnut Creek after two years in Michigan. It is certainly wonderful having them nearby.

AND FASHION SHOWS . . .

One of the perennial spring pasttimes is going to fashion shows. Three attractive Orindans modeled in the recent show sponsored by Bamboo Branch of Children's Hospital held at El Nido. They are the Mesdames Donald L. Kelley, Harney Wilson and William D. Douglass.

Local ladies present at the party included the Mesdames George Dibble, Thomas M. Culbertson, Norman Cunningham, Edward Sherman, Charles A. Wood, Douglas V. Kelley, Yates Bleuel and Thomas Howard.

Jane Rose and her daughter Peggy modeled again this year at the annual Festival of Fashions and Flowers held last Tuesday in the Howard Gardens in Walnut Creek. Mrs. Roy Cole of Orinda was another model.

This lovely afternoon event is sponsored by the Walnut Branch of Children's Hospital and is always well attended.

Many Orindans will journey through the tunnel next Friday for the Mayfair fashion show to be given at the Claremont Hotel by the Junior Alliance. This party benefits Lincoln Home for maladjusted children and is one of their two annual fund raising events.

Tickets for the luncheon and show, with clothes by Joseph Magnin-Lindbergs' ,are 3.50 each and reservations may be made by calling any member. Jo Mirov at Orinda 2861 will be happy to take your reservation for the party which is another one of the big spring events.

The Santa Maria Branch of Providence Hospital held a benefit cocktail party at the Jewish Community Center last Sunday which was very successful. Decor was Hawaiian and a three-piece combo provided music. Among localites in the large crowd were the Messrs. and Mesdames Donald Woodcock, Elliot Rose, William Brock and John Epperson.

ODDS AND ENDS

The Joseph Ortlands of Orchard Road are double proud grandparents of twin girls born to their daughter, Mrs. Richard Boucher of Berkeley. The Bouchers have a young son.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jansse enjoyed a recent visit to Ahwahnee Lodge in Yosemite.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Scollard of Via Farrallon combined business and pleasure on a trip to Seattle which is their former home city.

Elected to Office

Robert W. Stover, president of Western Employers Service, was elected first vice-president of San Francisco Chapter, National Office Management Association, at the group's conference in Sonoma Mission Inn April 23.

Stover resides at 107 Moraga Highway, Orinda.

'Green Belt Plan' Topic for Womens Planning League

"County Master Planning" will be discussed by Karl Belser, director of planning for Santa Clara County, at an open meeting of the Women's Planning League of Contra Costa County at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the auditorium of the Coast Counties Gas Company, 1535 Bonanza Street, Walnut Creek.

Belser, a professional planner, will include in his talk information on the "Green Belt Plan" just adopted in Santa Clara County. The planning commission of that county has set aside 744 acres of orchards as the first exclusively agricultural area.

THE HISTORIC STEP is designed to retain the agricultural base of the county and to preserve large areas from encroachment of subdivisions and industry.

Permanent agricultural zoning was made possible by an amendment to the county zoning ordinance. A series of "green belts" throughout the county will be established "to fulfill not only the needs of the farmer, but to provide breathing space for all the people of the county," according to Belser.

AS PART OF its current study program, the Women's Planning League will explore the possibility that Contra Costa County might preserve some of its beautiful country atmosphere by setting aside similar green belts of walnut groves, orchards and rolling farm lands.

It is possible that these could be incorporated into the Master Plan now being developed by the County Planning Commission, according to Mrs. Mitchell Farrar, chairman.

All persons interested in the promotion of better planning in Contra Costa County are invited to hear Belser's message and to learn what may be expected in the way of creative work from a county technical planning staff. A question and answer period will follow the discussion.

Topic of Mart

Bob Nelson of East Contra Costa Junior College will speak on "Closing the Sale" at a meeting of the Contra Costa Realty Mart at 8 a. m. Monday at El Nido Rancho, Lafayette.

Stepped-Up Plan Needed by J.C., Furst Declares

Harold Furst of Lafayette, who is opposing incumbent O. J. Wohlgemuth of Walnut Creek for election May 21 to the Board of Trustees of the Contra Costa Junior College District as the representative of Ward 4, declared yesterday that a stepped-up program of tackling administrative and academic problems is required in order "to keep pace with the growing needs of the college."

"Ever since its formation the Contra Costa Junior College has faced difficult administrative and academic problems," Furst said. "While some progress has been made, it has not been rapid enough to keep pace with the growing needs of the college.

"This is a direct reflection upon the performance of the present board members.

"LOOKING AHEAD to the further development of the Contra Costa Junior College, I believe men of wide experience are needed to serve on the board.

"I further believe that the present representative from Ward 4 does not meet these specifications."

Fuhst, 37, is regional economist for the Bank of America in San Francisco. He lives at 3324 Moraga Boulevard, Lafayette, and has been a Lafayette resident since 1941.

ACTIVE IN COMMUNITY affairs, he is past president of the Lafayette Improvement Association and is chairman of the association's incorporation study committee. He has been a director of the Lafayette Improvement Association since 1945.

Furst is a graduate of the University of California, where he received his B.S. and M.B.A. degrees.

"My candidacy," Furst said, "is based upon a desire to continue to serve the area where I live, and in those activities in which I am best qualified to render high-level service.

"MY TRAINING and experience as an administrative officer at the University of California for almost 10 years gave me some insight into and understanding of the nature of the academic and administrative problems facing our higher education institutions, of which the junior college is one.

"It is on this basis that I have become a candidate. And it is on this same basis that I ask for support."

CURVED BAR AWARDS were given to 466 Girl Scouts of the Diablo Valley Area in ceremonies at Acalanes High School last night. Mrs. Leonard H. The Court of Awards for the Diablo Valley Area Girl Scout Council was held at the Acalanes High School auditorium last night.

Curved Bar pins were presented to 46 intermediate Girl Scouts, the largest number of girls ever to receive this award at a Court of Awards in the history of this council.

THE PROGRAM began with the presentation of the colors by Senior Scouts Moonyean Spiher, Carol O'Brien, Norrine Funk, Diane Melvin, Patsy Jo Ford and Virginia Vance, followed by the Curved Bar Processional and salute to the flag.

A box supper, a social get-together for girls receiving the Curved Bar, was held April 28 at the Hillcrest Congregational Church.

Scouts Prepare For Sierra Camp

The Girl Scouts of the Mt. Diablo area are rapidly sending in their reservations for Camp Sierra Woodlands for two weeks of hiking, swimming, fishing, eating and sleeping in their High Sierra camp, 20 miles from Downieville at an altitude of 6000 feet.

There will be three sessions running from July 8 to 22, July 22 to August 5, and August 5 to 19. Buses will leave Lafayette early the first morning of each session with 100 girls and some counselors and chaperones for the 8 or 9-hour trop.

At camp each session there will be five units, each having 20 girls, one unit leader, one assistant and one or two counselors. Every other day is tentatively set aside as a hike, swim and nosebag lunch day.

The girls will swim in nearby lakes, the closest of which is a mile and a half from camp.

ON THE ALTERNATE days, the girls will do activities in their own units, such as making nature trails, playing first aid or observation games, planning a campfire program, designing rustic scenes for the dining room tables or just washing clothes and resting.

Miss Jeanne Christie, executive director of the Girl Scouts, is happy to have last year's dietician and cook returning this summer.

THE WEEKENDS OF June 26 and July 4 have been set aside as "work weekends," and any family interested is more than welcome. Just call Marvin Taylor at MUlberry 5-8019 and let him know when you can come.

The established camp committee has done an excellent job this year, according to Miss Christie. Elsie Glotfelty of Lafayette is chairman, and the members are Messrs. and Mesdames Joseph D. Nicolet of Orinda and Thurston Skei of Lafayette, Mesdames George Connor of Alamo, Fred Elvin of Lafayette, R. G. Oman of Pleasant Hill, Marvin Taylor of Ygnacio Valley, Peter Linsley of Lafayette, Betty Quick of Walnut Creek, and Raymond Westphal of Lafayette, Dr. and Mrs. Dana Hamlin of Lafayette, Peter Howard of Walnut Creek, Betty Quick of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Robert Evans, camp coordinator.

AMA Approval Of Fluoridation

"I can say that the American Medical Association endorses fluoridation of public water supplies," stated Dr. George F. Lull, secretary and general manager of the American Medical Association, in a letter released by Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer.

The letter from the medical association's secretary was in reply to the Health Department's inquiry on the AMA's position on fluoridation.

"The facts have been so twisted by those opposed to this important dental public health measure, that when Gerald L. K. Smith added his misinformation to the growing pile, we thought it was about time to call a halt in the public interest," stated Dr. Blum.

Replying to the inquiry on the position of the AMA, Dr. Lull stated: "Gerald Smith and many others have twisted the words around because of the fact that in one action of the House of Delegates the word 'principle' was used. No matter what words were used, the endorsement is that public water supplies should be fluoridated in order to prevent dental caries in children."

Pinkie, a Welch Corgi, Comes out Tops

Lady Pinkerton of Bryan Hill, called Pinkie by those who know her, placed first on graduation night after three months of obedience training under F. E. Bryan and Joe Simpson of Lafayette.

Pinkie is a Welsh Corgi bitch, and is typical of these bright, sprightly, intelligent dogs.

Pinkie is owned by Bryan, who lives at 3712 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, and has become interested in this particular breed of dog.

CORGIS ARE versatile dogs. They have excellent noses, tender mouths and in England there are many that are gun trained and are admirable retrievers.

They have been used in their native Wales for years as sheep and cattle dogs, and are hardy animals, remaining healthy in both cold and warm climates.

The popularity of the breed has soared in the past few years because of the great affection of the royal family of England for their succession of Corgis.

WHEN PRINCESS Elizabeth was seven years old her father presented her with her first Welsh Corgi puppy, and since that day her majesty the queen has never been without a Welsh Corgi as he constant and devoted companion and friend.

Board Changes Planning Titles

The titles of planning technician and assistant planning technician were changed to director of planning and principal planner as the Board of Supervisors approved a Civil Service Commission recommendation by a 3-2 vote last week.

Thomas G. Heaton, planning technician for the past 14 years, is now director and H. R. Griffith holds the secondary title.

Supervisors Warren G. Buchanan and Jake Frederickson voted against the move, explaining they felt the positions should be filled by a civil service examination.

Forum Speakers to View Middle East

Three outstanding experts on foreign affairs will appear as speakers on the same program Thursday, 8 p.m., at Las Lomas High to discuss the "Middle East Turmoil," in the last of a three-forum series, "Our Foreign Policy—Success or Failure," sponsored by the Acalanes Education Association.

Speakers will include Sir Robert Hadow, veteran British diplomat and current English consul in San Francisco, who was knighted by Queen Elizabeth in January, 1953.

Professor George Lenzzowski, visiting professor of political science in charge of Middle Eastern Studies at U.C., is the author of several studies of the Middle East including, "The Middle East in World Affairs," and "Russia and the West in Iran."

The third speaker, Dr. Norbert N. Einstein, economic counselor and expert in foreign trade and investments, is a former banker and currently advisor to U. S. corporations on foreign trade problems.

Tickets for the final forum are 25 cents for students, 50 cents for adults. Proceeds from the series will go to underprivileged children of India.

Munns Charges 'Smokescreen'

Edward N. Munns of Concord, candidate for Democratic nomination as 10th District assemblyman candidate, this week accused incumbent Donald Doyle, Republican, of "hiding behind a smokescreen of nonpartisanship."

"I have noticed that the Republican candidate for the Assembly office seems to be ashamed of his GOP tag," Munns said. "This fact is borne out by the obvious lack of a party designation on the Republican candidate's campaign literature."

Munns has filed for the Democratic nomination only, while Doyle has crossfield.

Annual 'Musance' Production at Acalanes Tonight

Students of Acalanes High School invite the general public to the annual Don presentation "The Musance," combined chorus, band and modern dance show at 8:30 tonight in the Don gym.

Theme of this year's production is "Freedom's Song." The Acalanes Mixed Chorus will sing "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor," taken from the inscription on the Statue of Liberty; "Battle Hymn of the Republic," "Where in the World but in America," and "Way Back Home."

THE MODERN DANCE Group will interpret the "Spirit of America," and six spirituals, while the Acalanes concert band features Fred Arbogast, trombone soloist, playing "The Message," and the band rendering "Amparito Roca."

The band, chorus and dance group will join in a grand finale to depict "Early California," the easy-going ways of the West and the impact of the discovery of gold.

"The Musance" follows on the heels of two recent Acalanes student productions of "Our Miss Brooks," the popular radio-TV comedy; and "The Mikado," by Gilbert and Sullivan.

THE ACALANES Modern Dance Group performing in "The Musance," is directed by Miss Millicent Hamburger; and band and chorus are led by Richard Hansen, music instructor.

Tickets at 50 cents for students; 75 cents for adults will be sold at the door the night of the show.

Bowersox to Succeed Larmer as Head Of County Development Association

George Bowersox of Concord, manager of the Coast Counties Gas and Electric Company, will be installed president of the Contra Costa County Development Association at Mt. Diablo Country Club June 10.

Bowersox, manager of the utility's Contra Costa operations since 1945 and associated with the firm and its predecessor since 1936, will succeed Edward M. Larmer of Walnut Creek, president for the past year, on the basis of election by association directors at their monthly meeting in Martinez.

The directors elected four vice presidents: C. P. Tanner of Walnut Creek; L. C. Keading, Richmond; H. S. Dodge, Richmond, and Hal W. Saunders, Saranap.

Milton Gross of Martinez was re-elected treasurer and Mrs. Theo Oltman of Martinez was chosen corporate secretary.

New directors from this area include Thomas N. St. Hill of Orinda; H. W. Saunders, Saranap; Howard C. Greenhalgh and L. T. Schreiber, Walnut Creek; Ronald A. Howard, Pleasant Hill.

Tanner, as chairman of the association's special events committee, and Association Manager Iona M. Booth are making arrangements for the installation dinner.

A feature will be association recognition of Dr. C. L. Abbott of Richmond, who at 79 years is retiring after 32 years as county coroner.

Baldwin-Doyle Dinner Tuesday

More than 600 persons are expected to attend the Baldwin-Doyle campaign fund-raising dinner at the Diablo Country Club at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Lindsey Spight of Orinda, member of the arrangements committee for the event, stated yesterday.

Tickets are $25 for individual admission or $30 for a couple. Prime roast ribs of beef constitute the main course of the dinner. The program will include entertainment.

The only speakers will be John Baldwin, Republican candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District, and Assemblyman Donald Doyle, Republican candidate for reelection from the 10th Assembly District.

W. F. Anderson of Walnut Creek is chairman of the arrangements committee and will serve as toastmaster. With him in the committee are Spight, Harmon Howard of Walnut Creek and Don Kientz of Pleasant Hill.

Kientz is chairman of the ticket sales committee. Tickets can be obtained from anyone on the arrangements and ticket committees, or from any of the Baldwin and Doyle area campaign chairmen.

Bookkeeper Job Open

The Lafayette School District is presently receiving applications for the position of bookkeeper.

Applicants with a knowledge of fundamental accounting principles and varied bookkeeping experience are desired. Salary range is $258-$305.

Park Commission Formed by Board

A Contra Costa County Park Commission was created last week as the Board of Supervisors approved an ordinance prepared by District Attorney Francis Collins.

There was no opposition to the action, though Executive Director Harry Morrison of the County Taxpayers Association suggested changes changes not included by the board.

He asked a public hearing before the commission be required 30 days before any park site is presented to the board and made other minor recommendations.

The ordinance provides no specific means of financing, no means of selection of a parks director and gives the commission advisory powers only.

Adoption Group Investigates Juvenile Home, Problems

Robert Hamlin, supervisor of juvenile probation in Martinez, spoke to members and guests of the Contra Costa County Adoption Auxiliary at their April meeting at the home of Mrs. George Pence of Lafayette recently.

Hamlin's speech included a history of the county probation department, and a discussion of existing juvenile problems. He explained the need for a youth camp in this county. His topic met with such great interest that the Auxiliary expressed a desire for further meetings on the same subject.

MRS. PAUL N. PRATT, president, stated that, "While this organization is not at present set up to take action on matters other than adoption, the interest of the members is naturally broadening to include other services to children. We are interested in informing ourselves about Juvenile Probation work and hope to have further discussions of topics of current interest such as this."

Mrs. Robert Kahn, Lafayette, will be chairman of a committee to stimulate interest among negroes in the adoption of children of their race needing adoptive homes.

THE ADOPTION AUXILIARY was formed two years ago and June will mark the beginning of its third year of activity. Accordingly a nominating committee was elected to recommend officers for election at the June meeting. The committee consists of Mrs. Foster Davis of Concord, and Mrs. Harold Paige and Mrs. Robert C. Keyston of Lafayette.

The Auxiliary's May meeting was held Wednesday at the home of President Mrs. Paul N. Pratt, Walnut Creek.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Patricia Galpin, a child welfare staff member of the Adoption Unit, whose topic was "The Preparation of an Older Child for Adoptive Placement."

Questions pertaining to adoption may be sent to Adoption Question and Answer Service, Box 44, Lafayette.

About our happy Country Folks

By EDITH BOLMAN

WE ARE FORCED TO ADMIT, at long last, that we have locked horns with someone smarter than we. Cajoling and enticements did not allure him. We even went so far as to prepare a gourmet morsel, but the enticee refuses to be enticed.

He trifles with our affections, wriggles into the unsprung trap, grabs the carrot and departs happily down his tunnel taking along the newly planted Hedera ivy, azalea branches, iris bulbs and those darling little annuals, plus the trap. This coy procedure has been going on quite a spell and, so for, the winnah is — Mr. Gopher.

Home again, and what a party, wow!

The boys are back from South America where "every night was New Year's Eve for 38 nights." Ray Dicky and George Hauerken took a boat tour to such places as Rio de Janiero, Buenos Aires, Bahia, Trinidad and way points, and some of the highlights were: The Pre-Lenten Carnival at Rio which is the Grandpa of all Mardi Gras with the gaily costumed celebrants and vast crowds of onlookers. Mr. H. reports that the local ladies are amazingly beautiful.

At Rio also the boys were met by old friends Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davidson, and were shown among other things, the "sacarolha" which, to our understanding, is the rhumba done backwards. Now to our way of thinking the normal rhumba is a wee smitch backwards and we are at a loss to figure this one. There is another little jig called the "Bayon" which, according to the boys is a dance you do NOT do — just insinuate — gracious!

FUN ON THE BOAT TOO. Messrs. Dicky and Hauerken, in order to maintain that well groomed look took along a bar of laundry soap, a collapsible iron and a "Fruit of the loom" steam cloth. They had adequate instructions on the use of the last two and almost everybody knows what to do with a bar of soap — but — they just never had time.

What with Sadie Hawkins Day where everyone dressed like Little Abner and started running; and the Barber Shop quintet which involved a little practicing — and the Can Can, executed nicely by the ladies, and then just plain executed by the gentlemen, in like costumes. King Neptune's Court where some of the passengers were coated with soap and spaghetti in order to celebrate crossing the equator. And then home to Orinda where, also the girls are pretty nifty, and there is only one New Year's Eve annually.

Can't tell who you'll find up a pole next

Did you observe anything peculiar taking place on Camino Pablo — commonly known as the Orinda Highway — but generally referred to as the Dam Road, on Friday? A gentleman was climbing a telephone pole with nails between his teeth and an absorbed expression for the lady across the street who was giving him instructions via the wig-wag method — like on boats. Finally they agreed on a spot, so Jimmy Sweet nailed up the G.O.P. elephant sign for the purpose of directing traffic to the Republican Candidates coffee party Saturday, at the home of the Lindsey Spights.

Then Mrs. C. Aubrey Sweet, the wig-wag lady, got back where she belonged and stopped being a traffic startler. The party was an impressive success and the neighboring small daughter of the Oscar Burnettis spent all day watching the festivities in fascinated fashion — particularly when Mrs. Joseph Creighton arrived with — no, not Mr. Creighton — because he had to go to the Regional Young Republican's meeting, and the custom in a situation like that is to send your representative — so — Mrs. Creighton arrives with the most enormous collie dog seen in these parts wearing a sign saying "Reelect Jo" "official representative Shack" (the dog's name). Then bow-wow like, he curled up under a tree and had a snooze.

There were lambs gamboling on the green Saturday night — local lambs and a couple of imports — the ewes were a pale blond type — one done away in shades of violet and pink — the other in China blue and white. The baby lamb was in pink and white candy stripe and wore an elephant pin on her collar.

The rams were tall and dark and handsome and the gamboling took place in the gardens of the Woodburn Lambs who were entertaining for their house guests the Walter Lambs of Pebble Beach. This was before the Maypole Party at the Country Club — also a dinner party for same, by same, at the same place before hte Garden Show.

Can't tell the house without a program!

The Dan Sheldens, during their recent stay in the Bay area because of the Industrial Research Institute meeting at the Fairmont, kept their many friends hopping. They visited the old homestead now owned by the W. H. Mordys, and, as so often does NOT happen, they were delighted with the addition of the swimming pool and other improvements. We had a friend once who sold his home to some infidels who were so insensitive as to change the color on the outside. He was outraged, but not so the Sheldons who are most happy that their dream home on the hillside is in good and loving hands.

THE JACK BANNISTERS were here also but the weather was unkind. It rained, and those of you who know the Bannisters know what that would mean to a couple of good and ardent golfers.

Baby boy in Sleepy Hollow — moved in with the Jack Watsons on Friday last. From what we hear he used remarkable judgment in choosing that particular home and parent set-up.

Bride McCarthy and husband John entertained on Sunday last. A very interesting party with international conversation, American food and cocktails of course.

En garde, you're in my bailiwick!

We and our friend Patter (on the Party Line) have the most casual possible working arrangement regarding news areas in order to avoid embarrassing duplications (for instance Patter might tell you the hostess was wearing the "old blue tulle" and we'd describe the same lady as looking right dandy in pale green net — sometimes these things depend on your point of view) but anyway we are sure Patter will forgive us for invading her territory — and if anything ever was HER territory this is it — her own lovely garden — on Monday last when interested ladies from far and near assembled to hear, see and shake hands with Governor Knight — all about which you will read elsewhere in The SUN.

HOWEVER — WE WILL wager nobody else will tell you that Patter (Mrs. Vad Jelton) looked like a dream in blue and white against the colorful background of the flowers in her garden. Mr. Jelton, loyal supporter for Patter's various interests, right on hand to push, pull or shove depending on whatever was necessary to keep the crowds going in the right direction.

The various Jelton dogs and cats seemed to have been all stashed away for the morning and the sun smiled sweetly all over the place after giving everyone the jitters from 6:30 to 9 a.m. by not being on hand for the pre-festivities. However came the Governor, came the sun, came the swarms of guests and everything was perfect.

That is all.

Seafarers to Meet

The Seafarers will meet tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Gable, 3454 Freeman Road, Walnut Creek. Dessert will be served at 7:30 p.m.

Slides of their recent trip to the Hawaiian Islands will be shown.

Eastern Trip

Mrs. Robert Muse returned recently from accompanying her husband on a business trip to New York, going and returning by streamliner.

Fifth and sixth graders from all Orinda Schools will congregate at Acalanes High School May 19 to present a music festival under the direction of Miss Sara Sabelman, music teacher for the school district.

Approximately 325 children will take part in the 7:30 p.m. program in the gymnasium. Everyone is invited and there will be no charge.

Musical numbers will include all types, both sacred and secular. There will be folk songs, Negro spirituals, waltzes and old favorites such as "When You Wore a Tulip," in which the parents will be invited to join.

NUMBERS WILL BE BOTH a capella and with the accompaniment of Mrs. Lucille Fahay and Mrs. Mary Kistner.

Miss Sabelman pointed out that this is a culmination of the work done throughout the semester by the students, and is being presented by the music department of the Orinda schools in order that parents and friends might appreciate what the youngsters have been doing and what they have accomplished.

Numbers will also be presented by soloists, including piano and clarinet numbers.

Joseph Dame Family In New Home Here

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dame and their two children, Nan, 12, and Michael, 9, recently moved into their new home at 42 El Camino Moraga. The children attend Del Rey School.

The Dames came here from Oakland, where Dame formerly operated his painting and decorating service, Joseph Dame Company. Now he conducts his business from his Orinda home.

A landscape water colorist by avocation, Dame has done considerable color consulting for tract homes, including those of Moraga Del Rey Unit 2.

Guild Section Hears Missionary

At the April meeting of Section 4 of the Community Church Guild, the guest speaker was Mrs. Harriet Houston, wife of a Baptist missionary, from Assam, India.

She accompanied her talk with colored slides of the Mongolian tribes in the Naga Hills who are eager converts to Christianity, denouncing their ancient spiritualism.

Their immediate needs besides religion are basic education, sanitation and medicine, she said. Rev. and Mrs. Howard Houston and two children will return to Assam in November after completing graduate courses at the Baptist Seminary in Berkeley and a U.S. speaking tour.

12:15 Club Party

The 12-15 Club will have a Samba Bridge luncheon party Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Leo J. Alexander, 50 Via Hermosa. Reservations may be made through Mrs. Richard Hafner, Orinda 2178 or Mrs. Kenneth Anderson, Orinda 2894. The proceeds of the party will be used for the club's philanthropic work.

Girls' Chorus To Sing in City

The 7th and 8th grade girls' chorus, from Orinda School, will perform tomorrow, at 4:15 p.m. in the Creative Arts Building at the new San Francisco State College campus in connection with the Northern California State Music Festival.

The chorus, comprised of about 60 youngsters, will sing under the direction of Miss Sara Sableman. Included in the presentation will be "Agnus Dei" and "Benedictus" from Mass for treble voices by Virgil Thompson, a contemporary American composer.

The music was especially written in two parts for choral presentation. Also included will be "There Is a Balm in Gilead," featuring three soloists, Jane Simmons, Judy Hill and Carol Biesel, and a rhythmical number, "Clap-a Yo Hands."

The latter will be accompanied by Janes Simmons on the piano. The other numbers will be a capella.

Mothers Club to Hold Pot-Luck

A potluck supper for parents and teachers of Glorietta School will be held Wednesday from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at the Orinda School auditorium under the auspices of the Orinda Mothers Club.

Following the supper Robert Brown will be master of ceremonies for a short but varied program.

There will be ample opportunity for parents and teachers to meet socially.

Europe-Acalanes Student Exchange Plan Takes Shape

With some $550 still to be raised by June 1, a movement to establish exchange visits of teen-age European and Acalanes High School District students was progressing rapidly this week, following a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. T. D. Sanford at 19 Hacienda Circle, Orinda.

"This is something concrete—a tangible way of working for democracy in this war-torn world," Mrs. Sanford said after she received a phone call from Ernest Poll, international chairman for the Orinda Rotary Club, informing her that the Orinda Rotary Club on Wednesday allocated $650 for transportation of a European high school student for a 10-month stay in this area.

"Over $100 has been received toward the amount necessary to bring a second student here. That means that $550 more is needed by June 1 in order for the American Field Service to attain its goal of bringing two European students here next fall," Mrs. Sanford said.

UNDER THE PLAN, two Acalanes High School District students will go to Europe the following summer, for two-month stays. Transportation expense for them will be $450 per student.

The transportation money for the European and Acalanes District students is to be raised through contributions of individuals and organizations in this area, with present perspectives envisaging numerous small-change donations by local high school students as part of the effort.

"It's really a community project," Mrs. Sanford told the Orinda Association board last week. After hearing her and Association President Zach Montgomery report on the meeting at her home, the board unanimously endorsed the program.

WHILE HERE, each European student will live with a local area family and will attend school here. Similarly, the Acalanes students who will go to Europe will live with families there. Living expenses for the duration of the visits will be the responsibility of the host families.

"The American Field Service was started in 1947 by former U. S. ambulance drivers of World Wars I and II, with the idea of this high school student exchange," Mrs. Sanford, who is secretary of the Orinda Association's Civic Affairs Committee, told the association board.

"The student exchange was started in 1950 and is well established in some communities, including San Francisco."

SPEAKERS AT THE meeting at her home included Mrs. William Winter, wife of the well-known radio commentator; Church Peters of San Francisco, American Field Service adviser; three European students in the Bay Area as exchange representatives.

Among those present were the Rev. Fred Morrow and Mrs. Helen Drews of Orinda Community Church, Dr. Ralph Hall of the Acalanes High School District Board and of the Boy Scouts, David Stewart, dean of boys at Aclaanes High School; Ernest Poll of the Orinda Rotary Club and the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, President Zach Montgomery of the Orinda Association, Mrs. Betty Madison of the Orinda Junior Woman's Club, Mrs. E. H. Haase, outgoing president of the Lafayette Women's Forum; Mrs. Leonard Ford, president of the Diablo Valley Area Girl Scout Council; Mrs. Mitchell Farrar, chairman of the Women's Planning League of Contra Costa County; President Paul Pollaczek of the Glorietta Improvement Association and Fred Fox of the Los Amigos Homeowners Association.

PATTER ON THE PARTY LINE

By PATRICIA JELTON

WHAT A WEEK! If aptitude for change of pace an indication of mettle, man, we just qualified. Having somehow become involved in a one thing leads to another routine, the following events apparently took place since our last little Party Line chat.

Dig the agenda. The merry whirl as we like to simper in our best society snicker, began with a rainy bus ride with the entire seventh grade on a field trip to the Richmond Refinery, from which we emerged with pockets filled with assorted water guns, bean shooters, and sling shots, having been assigned that section we know best, namely boys.

All of which interesting material we were careful to divest ourselves of before putting in an appearance at a very interesting musical afternoon arranged by Mrs. John Ellis and featuring Robert Erickson, which took place in the newly and interestingly decorated home of Mrs. Ford Tussing.

Dig this crazy jive, jack!

Mr. Erickson is a young composer who works in the modern medium used by the group who has been actively engaged in musical research through the past few years.

He attacked his subject most diffidently with illustrations from the two composers who most have affected present day changes in style, Stravinsky and Schoenberg, and was most delighted that his playing of excerpts from same did not earn him a rapid heave-ho, rather found the ladies most enchanted listeners.

Some of Mr. Erickson's own works were executed at the San Francisco Museum Composers' Forum on Wednesday evening which our local members perhaps attended.

Admiring the Tussing decor and gathering around the tea table later were the Mesdames John Manners, Robert Bridges, Harry John Dutton, Lonie Bee with daughter Dodie, Haywood Gathings, Lawton Shurtleff, Raymond Tolles, M. M. Garrett, Edmund Cardin, Thomas Tryon, and others.

THIS "AND OTHERS" the neatest semantic trick we have become initiated into since our advent into the tabloids. Presents many faceted ramifications for the inately rattle-brained.

Missed in the gathering was charter member, Mrs. Melvin Jacobus, who is soaking up some high type musical material first hand as she tootles around Europe with pa.

Trouble is, you get your pinkies dirty

Then once again we found the annual Garden Show upon us, with sponsors and guests dressing up to the occasion as they met at various clubs and private gatherings for cocktails and an early supper hour. At the Orinda Country Club Mr. and Mrs. James North gathered a group of friends prior to reviewing Peg's attractive exhibition for the Orinda Garden Club. Many of the club contingent being invited on to the Ambrose MacDonalds' for a late supper rehash of the preview.

As usual, (we gloat), Contra Costans well in the lead in achievement, with blue ribbons dotting exhibitions of Jack Schneider and Stewart Wade, Harry Jackson, among others. (See what we mean?)

Shelley Pond and Sidney Rogers winning honors in the children's division.

In the audience Contra Costa ladies outstanding in their chic formal gear, despite sunburned noses and calloused pinkies from spring time occupation with same type endeavor at home.

STANLEY SCHOOL PARENTS CLUB fund raising dinner dance at El Rancho completely successful both socially and financially with principal, Jane Patorio, beaming over assurance of soon installation of inter-com system. The place was packed, as a matter of fact, with merry making parents and teachers forgetting for an evening the trials and tribulations of bringing up one more generation.

Outstanding memory of the evening, the graceful hula executed by lovely Maria Gogstad, Elaine's mother.

Political chit-chat on the social side

On Saturday afternoon, everybody, but everybody, dropped into hospitable Ruth and Lindsay Spight's in Orinda, to drool over their beautiful modern home and lovely gardens, nibble on goodies and sip coffee, and, here it comes again, boss, politics! — meet candidates. But what fun to meet so many, plus all the big wheel amateur politicians. And to top it all, the part which always amazes our masculine masters, managed to gather together quite a little scratch, to insure against importuning hand-outs.

PLAUDITS TO JANE BARROWS, Thelma Sweet, et al, (there it is again, see), for a well executed job.

With a quick change from our suffragette garb to filmy chiffon, we find ourselves in the patio of the Woodburn K. Lambs, where Evie and Dr. Woodie entertaining at cocktails for Billie and Walter Lamb (no relation) sometime Honolulu residents, now of Pebble Beach, and up for the Garden Show.

Among those present, (note alertness for new type ruse) were Phyllis and Ollie Meek, Nancy and Stan Dollar, checking up on the peacocks, Kay and Bill Feager, Barbara and Charlie Bailey, Phyllis and Tom Telfer, Mary and Fred Goodwin, Edie and Bob Bolman, (which might account for possible duplication of copy), Marion and Jack Bottomley, and well — others.

Then a mad dash home to entertain our own cocktail guests the George O'Mearas and C. J. Vallados and tote them over to the annual May Day spring formal at Orinda Country Club.

Decorations, spring flowers, and fun for all

And here go plaudits to the George Merriams for a most terrific decorating job. We admit it does come in handy these days to have as club president, Jack MacDonald who happens to have a few nurseries at his disposal, but we will stick our swan-like appendage way out to say we have never seen the club so attractive.

WE KNOW EVERYBODY who was there because wrote them down as they happened, but because space is growing short we will omit the list. Same may be procured by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Anyhow, Sunday was opening day for the yachting season, and the salty section of C. C. C. were showing off their prowess at tacking and jibbing before the St. Francis Yacht Club. While we were so engaged, talented staunch pals Barbara Robertson, Patty Kilbourn and Eileen Pond were doing flower arrangements for our Happy Valley premises in preparation for a crack of dawn gathering in the garden Monday morning to receive our Honorable Governor Goodwin J. Knight.

All came off as advertised with several hundred men, women and children delighted with the gentleman's charm and humor, valuable embellishments to executive ability. (Now Herman, you leave that in.)

What'd you do in the war, dad?

As the procession left our grounds to proceed through the county on tour, spot a future statesman, age about four, striding up the drive with proportionately over-size campaign button attached to front of Eton jacket.

"Government just gimme a medal," proclaims he.

Invited that evening to sit at Governor's table at dinner in Richmond, where we are sorry to say, we spent full time regaling the courteous gentleman with our fancied talents as yachtswoman, so alas, have not a single quote to quote you.

Then on to another dinner at Jack and Lorna Ley's in honor of the Walter Wearnes, who commute between Singapore and Australia. Honest.

Enthralled with their tales of merchandising automobiles in the Malayan jungle, and wistfully thinking with Tom St. Hill of possible seclusion from the daily hassel, in Perth, Australia. Soon to be disillusioned, however, as assured by Connie Wearne that principle occupation of her woman pals right now, organization of precinct workers for the Liberal Party. Their daughter and her husband left in charge busy with Young Libs. Sound familiar?

But gee, I can't operate a lift!

Asked as to impression of our country, most impressed with Walnut Creek shopping center and El Nido Rancho Motel, two commodities missing from their habitat.

Remarked that on last visit to the States had been introduced to hot dogs, but now noted introduction of new type concoction. Explained they, "On a little cafe in Lafayette, we observed an advertisements proclaiming 'Mufflers in twenty minutes.' What's mufflers?"

Nancy Carlson, Jack Cotteral Plan Wedding

Nancy Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Carlson, 1036 Second Street, Lafayette, recently announced her engagement to Jack Cotteral, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cotteral of Oak Hill Road, Lafayette.

A party was held April 25 at the Carlson home for Nancy and about 100 friends and guests attended to wish the couple well.

Guests arrived and departed from 3 to 6 p.m. and enjoyed an elaborate cake with the engaged couple's name inscribed in a large heart.

Nancy is presently attending College of the Pacific, where she is a music major and is affiliated with Zeta Phi and Central Wesley Fellowship.

Jack is in the Air Force and is stationed at Mather Field in Sacramento.

There will be a dance contest and the winning boy and girl will go dinner dancing at the Hotel Claremont with Mr. and Mrs. John Grobe, directors of the dance group. The Grobes live in Orinda.

Sponsors tomorrow night will be Mr. and Mrs. Gorton Linsley of Lafayette.

Gay Parties Will Precede Nursery School Festivity

A flurry of parties in Orinda and Lafayette homes are planned to precede the Orinda Nursery School's annual social highlight of the year, the spring informal dinner dance, tomorrow night at the Diablo Country Club.

The benefit dance for the non-profit, cooperative nursery school is expected to draw more than 700 persons, according to Mrs. David Lewis, ticket chairman. Tickets at $5 per person may be obtained before the dance from Mrs. Lewis at Orinda 2758, from members, or at the door, the chairman said.

Dinner will be served at 9 p.m., prizes will be awarded and dancing will continue until 2 a.m. to the music of Gordon Heche's orchestra, Mrs. C. W. Brock Jr., general chairman, announced.

Besides Mrs. Lewis, on Mrs. Brock's dance committee are Mrs. Paul Slattery, in charge of prizes; Mrs. George F. Fraser, posters, and Mrs. Gordon Ainsworth, publicity.

Among the many cocktail parties planned before the dance are those of Mrs. Eugene Shurtleff who has invited the following to her Miner Road home in Orinda: Messrs. and Mesdames John Bailey, Robert Spott, Raney Reid, Clinton De Witt and Willard Miller.

In Lafayette Mrs. W. W. Scott of Los Palos Drive will entertain Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Caygill and the Messrs. and Mesdames Edward Pike, E. J. Cardin Jr., Lawton Shurtleff, Ted Sawyer, Robert Cunningham, Joseph Clark and Bryce Wilson.

Members of the Nursery School met Wednesday night at the Orinda Community Church to view the University of California-produced motion picture, "Shyness." The film limned the problem of shyness in the pre-school child, its causes and suggested solutions. Hostesses at the meeting included the Mesdames Jack Kramer, Peter Ponting, George F. Fraser, Miles Hudson, Richard Broderick, Maynard Buehler and Bruce Campbell.

Frances Groves to Sing With Heidelberg Opera

By CARRIE BROWN

In a very happy way many Orindans and others in Berkeley, Oakland and Stockton will say "I told you so! I knew it would happen!" when they hear the news that Frances Groves has just received a year's contract to sing in the "Stadtheater Heidelberg."

Frances, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Murray Groves of 25 Camino Encinas, Orinda, started her first solo singing when 13 to 14 years old. When in Acalanes High School and in Berkeley High School she studied voice under Schnoor of Berkeley.

At the College of Pacific she majored in music under Spelts and appeared there in lead roles in Carmen, The Magic Flute, The Medium, and in concerts and oratorios.

AFTER GRADUATING from C.O.P. Frances had a year's study in New York. It was here that she had an audition with Dr. Antonia Brico who soon afterward accompanied her to Europe and introduced her to Madame Lukascheck, a famous teacher in voice in Munich, who consented to undertake her training.

Now after a year and a half study with Lukaschek Frances has received this year's contract to sing in opera in Heidelberg, famous for its beauty and being a great musical center.

Miss Groves has studied the roles of Amneris in Aida, Azucena in Trovtore, both operas by Verdi, Cherubino in Mozart's Figaro, Carmen in Bizet's Carmen, Orpheus in Gluck's Orpheus, and other lesser roles. She cannot announce at this time what her roles will be in the coming season at Stadtheater Heidelberg as the repertoire has not yet been planned.

HER FAMILY has learned that Madame Lukascheck, her teacher, Dr. Antonia Brico, her sponsor, Herrn von Loeben, her coach, Madame Gernot, her dramatic teacher, her church choir director in Munich and friends made in musical associations all feel that this 24-year-old girl from Orinda has her feet firmly planted on the first rung of the ladder to success and will make all of them very proud of her achievements.

Hundreds Attend GOP Party at Lindsey Spights'

Hundreds of guests attended the Republican Candidates' Day last Saturday at the Orinda home of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Spight.

Candidates on hand to speak with the guests included John Baldwin, congressional candidate from the 6th District; Donald Doyle, incumbent assemblyman from the 10th District; Harold Powers and James Silliman, candidates for lieutenant governor, and Robert Kirkwood, state controller.

Campaign chairmen for Governor Goodwin Knight and U. S. Senator Thomas Kuchel were also present.

There was no admission charge, but proceeds from the refreshments will go to a campaign expense fund. Mrs. J. Aubrey Sweet was general chairman of the affair.

CARNIVAL CAPERS

Last Friday night was our big rally dance. "Carnival Capers" was the theme and four booths were set up with different carnival concessions. One of the reasons for the carnival theme was to encourage the students to come stag as well as by couples.

The following couples triple dated: Mary Johns and Jim Watkins, Bobbie Krotz and Vic Savale and Bonnie Traskowski and Harvey Lowthian. As the dance was a girl ask boy affair, these gals picked up their dates and gave each guy a beautiful radish corsage.

After the dance several parties were held. Those attending one at Bonnie Traskowski's home were Bonnie and her date, Mary Johns and Jim Watkins, Bobbie Krotz and Vic Savale, Chris Swanson and Tim Laden, Bets Hayes and Marshall Dutton and Judy Dunn and Chuck Gompertz . . .

AND PICTURES

At the Council meeting April 28, Mr. Walgren presented Bob Gray, president, with a picture of President Eisenhower for the Dean's office. The portrait was given to Mr. Walgren by the Womens Republican Club of Lafayette . . .

SEEING STARS

After school today the senior girl scouts are hopping over to San Francisco to take a gander at the Planetarium. Some of the girls going are Carol Weckerle, Jackie Cohen, Marilyn Healy, Shirley Gee and Patsy Ford . . .

CONGRATULATIONS

We would like to say "congratulations" to Victor T. Johnson of Lafayette, who will be president of our Parents Club this next year. More congrats to Mrs. John Rinn, vice president; Mrs. Alan Waddell, recording secretary; Mrs. Metlock, corresponding secretary; Doug Robertson, treasurer; Marshall Shapiro, auditor, and Mrs. Krotz, parliamentarian, who will work with Johnson during the coming year . . .

TURNABOUT

Open house last week was a howling success. Over 1000 parents had a chance to sit in on some of their sons and daughters classes. The parents really looked funny running from class to class looking bewildered as bells rang and rang . . . and they weer really tired after it was all over. Maybe now they will realize that we really ARE too tired to do the dishes after a hectic day at school.

Track, Tennis, Swim Titles at Stake

County Finals at Acalanes Tomorrow

The coming week is a big one in the local prep sports field, with track, tennis and swimming championship meets on tap.

Track, which had trials at the Acalanes oval Tuesday, winds up tomorrow afternoon with the finals getting under way at Acalanes Memorial Field at 1:30 sharp.

Swimming and tennis hold their big events the same day, starting with trials at 10 a. m. and concluding with finals in the afternoon, and with Mt. Diablo High the scene of action.

ON MONDAY the Dons baseball team plays the Pleasant Hill Rams at Acalanes, while the racquet wielders go at it the same day on the local courts.

On Wednesday the Don pool shows with Palo Alto furnishing the opposition in a practice meet.

The peninsula lads are always a strong contingent, and the highly-rated Dons will have stiff competition, which is just what Coach Tom Stamper of the Dons had ordered prior to the North Coast meet on May 22.

THE DONS FIGURE to cop both divisions of the county meet and break a number of records in the process.

On Thursday it will be unlucky May 13 for someone as the Dons cross bats with Albany on the Cougars' diamond. The winner here will rate as a top contender for the crown in the current nip-and-tuck pennant race.

Golf has its day next Friday, when the Dons travel to Antioch. On the basis of their fine record to date, it looks like another win for the local lads.

THE WEEK WILL BE rounded out for the Dons with Track Coach Charles Easton taking his two weight stars, Ray Williamson and Jim Hart, to the Fresno Relays Saturday, May 15.

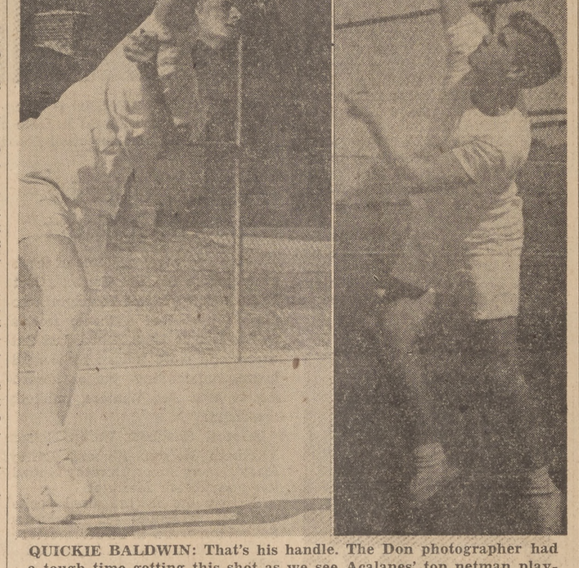
The Las Lomas baseball nine faces a busy week. It plays Antioch at home Tuesday and travels to Martinez for a game with Alhambra High Thursday.

The fast-improving Knights look better each time out, and it's not out of the realm of possibility that they might register a pair of wins over their more experienced opponents.

THE PLEASANT HILL baseball team really faces a week of action. It plays the Dons in a makeup at Acalanes Monday, goes to Mt. Diablo Tuesday and travels to Pittsburg Thursday.

The Rams, like the Knights, have played some surprising ball at times, and they are about due to knock over some unsuspecting opponent.

This may be the week for that to happen.



QUICKIE BALDWIN: That's his handle. The Don photographer had a tough time getting this shot as we see Acalanes' top netman playing a set with himself. Dave, not being able to find a partner, had to resort to this. He say's it's tiring but better than not practicing at all.

Prep Thinclads Ready for Rugged Rivalry Tomorrow

Tomorrow is the big day for the county prep thinclads, with trials now a matter of record and the finalists ready for competition starting at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow at Acalanes Memorial Field.

The trials were held at Acalanes Tuesday, with qualifying heats being held in the Varsity and Bee divisions, while finals were held in Bee field events.

The score at conclusion of the lightweight Bee events shows Pittsburg out in front with 21 9/10, Alhambra 21, Diablo 15 1/5, Antioch 14½, Acalanes 7 1/5, Las Lomas 5, Pleasant Hill 5, Pittsburg Junior High 4, John Swett 1 1/5 and Albany 0.

PITT, WITH GREAT all-around strength, figures to cop the meet by a comfortable margin.

In the Varsity running event trials the Mt. Diablo Devils qualified 14, Pittsburg 12, Acalanes 7 and Antioch and Las Lomas 4 apiece.

The Dons have their strength in the field events, where they figure to cop plenty of points in the shot, discus and pole vault.

THE VARSITY MEET appears to be strictly a three-way affair, with Diablo, Acalanes and Pittsburg involved.

Diabo has depth, Pittsburg plenty of first-place potential runners and the Dons some of both.

The advance dope sheet favors Diablo, 85, with Pitt next with 83 and the Dons third with 74.

TRACK IS notable for upsets, however, and there's also the fact that the other schools can upset the "dope" by comethrough performances of their own.

The only county record that appears to be possibly doomed is the pole vault, where Stan Garrut of Diablo has gone better than 12 feet, 10 inches.

The county mark of 12 feet 4¼ inches was set by Neil Caldwell of Acalanes in 1952.

Dons, Gauchos Split Meet Wins

The Acalanes Bee track squad had rough going at El Cerrito last Friday when it dropped a 72⅔-40⅓ decision to the Gauchos, but in the Varsity meet the tables were reversed, with the Dons on the long end of a 68-45 count.

The Don Varsity swept the 880-yard run, with Richard Hull breasting the tape in 2:08.7, and also swept the discus with Ray Williamson, Jim Hart and Dennis Busby finishing in that order.

WILLIAMSON WON the blue ribbon honors with a heave of 124 feet, 8 inches. Williamson also copped the shot by heaving the 12-pound iron ball 53 feet, 1 inch.

Stafford was El Cerrito's standout as he set two meet records, running the 180-yard low hurdles in 20.9 and skipping the 120-yard highs in 15.6.

BRIGHT LIGHTS for the Don Bees were Pilcher, who copped the 330 in 38.6 for a meet mark; Lockwood, who rambled the 1320 to win in 3:44.6; Cory, who took the discus with 111 feet, 7½ inches, and Carl Lincoln, who took the high jump at 5 feet, 4½ inches.

The Don relay team, composed of Ed Timoney, Alden Robertson, Mike Barrett and Pilcher, did the 440 event in 48.2.

Don Golf Team Beats San Mateo

The Acalanes golfers came through with another sterling performance last Friday when they played host to the San Mateo divot diggers and posted a 10½ - 7½ win over their Peninsula rivals.

The Don swingers and their individual scores were:

Wally Marsh, 77; Ben Combs, 78; Lenny Traynor, 79; Bob Wilkes, 81; Ray Orr, 83; Chip Peacock, 92.

The Dons were scheduled to face the Piedmont Highlanders today in a return match at Orinda Country Club but the event has been cancelled, with the result that the Dons will engage in a "blind bogey' inter-squad match instead, in order to keep themselves in shape for the county meet, which is fast approaching.

Don Nine Trims Knights, 6-2

The Acalanes baseball club racked up a 6-2 win over the Las Lomas Knights Monday afternoon at Acalanes, but only after the Walnut Creek lads had thrown a scare into the Dons ,who were trailing 1-0 when Las Lomas scored in the opening inning.

Don Schuppert, leadoff batter for the visitors, reached first on an error, went to second on a pass ball, scooted to third when Catcher John Champlin threw to second and no one covered.

In the ensuing pitch, Schuppert stole home, and Las Lomas was out in front 1-0.

THE DONS did little in the way of getting on base in the first two innings, as only seven men faced Schuppert, who was doing the mound duty for the Knights.

In the third, however, the tide changed when the Dons scored five runs on four hits coupled with two walks and an error.

Warren Johnson, John Conley, Champlin and Richie Munn all contributed singles to aid the Acalanes cause in what proved to be the big inning as far as the Dons were concerned.

THE KNIGHTS added another run to their total in the fourth frame, while the Dons added an insurance run of their own in the bottom half of the sixth.

Schuppert was relieved by Lahde in the fourth, while Red Jones of the Dons did likewise for Mike Barrett in the same frame.

Barrett received credit for the win, leading 5-1 at the time of his departure.

THE DONS HAD a bad day afield, committing six errors to two on the part of Las Lomas.

In the hit column, the Dons had 6 to 4 for their cross town rivals.

The win kept the Dons in a second place tie with Mt. Diablo, behind league-leading Albany.

Bob Burger Takes Chess Honors

The Diablo Chess Club of Walnut Creek has been reaping honors galore this past season. The club's top player, Bob Burger, again won the Central California chess championship for the fourth consecutive time

Champions from every section of the state's central area met in this annual event. The local player went through the gruelling Modesto tournament without a single loss.

The club's double round robin turnament was just completed. With 18 contestants competing the final standing showed Bob Hampton of Orinda in first place, Hugh Morison of Walnut Creek, second, and Connor Schroth of Lafayette, third.

Trophies were awarded at the last meeting. The tournament was marked by a series of upsets with favorites being handed setbacks repeatedly.

A new tournament got under way at the last meeting. This is a single round robin and those coming into the club within the next month may enter.

The Diablo Chess Club meets every Monday at 8 p.m. in the Walnut Festival Recreation Center. Visitors are welcome.

Las Lomas Wins Sportsman Trophy

Las Lomas High School has been awarded the Contra Costa County Athletic League Sportsmanship trophy for the 1954 basketball season.

This award is given annually by league officials to the member school which rates the highest on the organization of the cheering section, support of the team, cooperation with the yell leaders, the conduct of the students in the cheering section and band, courtesy to opponents' teams and rooting section, respect for decisions of game officials, and team sportsmanship.

The League Trophy, a gold cup, was presented by Principal Leland Russell at a recent all-school assembly. Tom Brown, Rally Committee chairman, and cheer leaders Barbara Soares, Barbara Boulter and Gene Kupper accepted the trophy.

Don Ferrarese, Former Acalanes Ace, Emerges as Stellar Pitcher for Oaks

By ERWIN MATTSON

I JUST CAME FROM seeing Don Ferrarese, former Acalanes player, win his third game of the season as he hurled the Oakland Oaks to a convincing 7-1 win over the Seattle club.

Don was a slow starter this season. He dropped the first three games, only to come back strong and, counting Tuesday's game, win three in a row.

At this writing, Don is leading the Pacific Coast League in strikeouts and is perhaps one of the best, if not the "hottest prospect," on the coast.

THE AMAZING THING is how many local fans are jumping on the bandwagon. Many of them were skeptics when things weren't going so good.

I always said that there wasn't anything fundamentally wrong and that Don's biggest handicap was lack of work.

Charlie Dressen evidently plans plenty of work for Don, and well he may, for if the little kid with the big heart comes up with an imposing seasonal record, the Oaks' exchequer is bound to grow, as the big league clubs will be bidding high for the diminutive southpaw who is fast becoming the favorite of the Oak fans.

Getting back to local fans, it has been interesting to note the reaction all along of those who have in many instances lived up to the adage that the toughest thing is for a local boy to make good in his home area.

IT IS IRONIC that there is something in human nature that makes people almost take a sadistic delight in seeing others fail. It must be a sense of failure in themselves that wants to see the other fellow slide downhill, or perhaps it's just that they can't come to realize that anyone they know so well could become great.

Personally, I have always liked to root for the home team and the local boy.

As I have said before, it's a double pleasure to root for Don Ferrarese because he has always been a terrific competitor and a top sport.

Only a week ago, Don dropped by school at Acalanes to help work with a young sophomore left-hander by the name of Mike Barrett and to throw a bit of batting practice. Needless to say, all of the Acalanes ball players figure that Don is tops and, win, lose or draw, they will stick with him, and many a time they will be rooting for him when the Oaks are at home.

He also stated Don was a pretty fair pitcher. I must confess he was that. He never lost a league game in two years, never allowed more than three hits in any one game and won the pennant two years in a row, then went on to be picked as the outstanding high school player as a result of his play in an all-star game in New York. Yep, he was a fair pitcher.

SEVERAL WEEKS BACK, I happened to overhear a conversation at one of the Oaks' ball games when Don was throwing. A young fellow was telling everyone how he had gone to school with Don and how he had played ball with him. He went on to tell how he personally had hit him on numerous occasions.

The funny part was that the young fellow doing all the talking had never been on an Acalanes ball team and had never faced Don at bat in a hardball game.

Spotlighting The Strip

By KITTY COLE

MOTHER'S DAY IS THIS SUNDAY, and what could be nicer than treating her to a dinner on the "tunnel strip"? There's such a variety no matter what kind of food "Mom" likes.

Smorgasbord at EL NIDO RANCHO . . . sea food at CAPE COD HOUSE and the LAFAYETTE SEA FOOD GROTTO . . . a varied menu in the "view room" at RANCHO GRANDE . . . Mexican food at DESERT INN and EL CHARRO . . . true Italian dinners at VOODOO VILLAGE . . . and pizza and other Italian specialties at FREDDIE'S PIZZERIA . . . barbecued meats at C & B RESTAURANT. You pays your money, and "Mom" takes her choice.

Have you been in to see what Al Mortara has done to the coffee shop? No longer has it the prosaic name "coffee shop." It's now the "view room" and isn't that an attractive name? As you know this room has huge windows on two sides and does have a lovely view of the mountains. AL has removed the counter and substituted tables and chairs, which gives much more seating space, and since RANCHO is now serving luncheon, this is needed. I had lunch there this week, and from the many entrees. I chose tomato stuffed with chicken salad, and it was so good a special menu is being prepared for "Mother's Day."

Here we go again with that rumor department. No, no, no, the C. & B. RESTAURANT has not folded. Illness in the Chicago branch of the BOLAND family made a flying trip east, a necessity, So BOB and SADIE shut the doors for a few days. But all is well, now, and the C. & B. is back on schedule and serving that fine barbecued food. Closed Mondays, only.

Have you tried VOODOO VILLAGE yet? If not, you don't know what you're missing. JIM MARKS, used to be chef at one of our most prominent tunnel strip restaurants, and the owner of that spot told me JIM made the best sauces and gravies he had ever tasted, and of course, they are featured at VOODOO, too.

The BOLOGNIA's new deal to bring pizza in to the Pleasant Hill area is practically set, but FREDDIE asked that I wait one more week before giving you the details.

Christian Science

Man's real spiritual status as the perfect image and likeness of God, not subject to sin or other weakness, will be emphasized at services Sunday at Churches of Christ, Scientist, at 42 Orinda Highway, Orinda, and 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Adam and Fallen Man" includes the following passages from the Bible: "And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness. . . . So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created him: male and female created he them" (Genesis 1:26 to :.27).

The following selection will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spiritually to understand that there is but one creator, God, unfolds all creation, confirms the Scriptures brings the sweet assurance of no parting, no pain, and of man deathless and perfect and eternal" (69:13).

Church Leaders Taking Course

A faculty of 11 Bay area educational leaders led off Monday evening in the second of five sessions of the Central Contra Costa County Christian Education Leadership Training Institute being held under inter-denominational auspices in the Walnut Creek Methodist Church, 1543 Sunnyvale Avenue.

"Church-Home Relationships" was the special theme this week for the opening period when Mrs. Muriel James presided. Other classes followed on six age-group divisions and administration.

Dean is Elroy Condeff of Walnut Creek, and Rev. Robert Carlson, pastor of the Hillcrest Congregational Church is serving as registrar.

On April 26 Miss Lois Horn conducted the opening session on "Using Audio-Visual Aids." Other special assembly subjects are 'Fellowship and Recreation," 'The Use of Music," and "Building and Planning for the Future."

Sponsoring body is the Ministerial Association of the central Contra Costa area. Over 125 teachers and leaders have enrolled.

Her placing against 150 other competitors won her seven trophies. A Mt. Diablo High School senior, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Loe of Ygnacio Valley Road.

She also brought home a blue ribbon from the Grand National Junior Livestock Show exhibitions in San Francisco last month.

Auction to Aid Remodeling of Jewish Center

The Contra Costa Jewish Community Center, with the cooperation of the Contra Costa League of Jewish Women, will hold an auction sale Sunday, May 16, 7 to 10 p.m., to raise funds for the remodeling of the Jewish Community Center building.

To be conducted by Lew Winston, well-known Oakland auctioneer, the auction will take place at the Center building, the former Planters Dock in Lafayette.

Merchandise will be on display from 5 to 7 p.m. the day of the sale, according to Lew Rapport, who with Mrs. Norman Danieke is co-chairman.

DONATED BY area merchants, the articles to be offered to the highest bidders include such varied items as dishwashers, washing machines, a refrigerator, power tools, clothing, cameras, canned goods, groceries, garden implements and many others—"all brand new," Rapport stresses.

Refreshments will be served.

Davdi Zuckerman, president of the Jewish Community Center, stated that after the building is remodeled it will continue to be available to all religious faiths, as it is now.

"WE PLAN TO start alterations in June, and hope the remodeling will be completed by fall," Rapport said.

One phase of the remodeling will involve the creation of a large room on the main floor and the installation of a kitchen in a corner of that floor.

Rapport asked that anyone having new articles to contribute for the auction phone him at YEllowstone 4-2405 on weekdays and DRake 6-4442 evenings and Sunday, or Mrs. Danieke at MUlberry 5-6305.

Please write us news about your family, friends, clubs and interesting events. If you see something important, call at once.

HOME and GARDEN

Movable Gardens Very Popular

Movable gardens are on the move.

Now that we've had our pun, let us hasten to explain that the statement is intended as a serious one. For, according to information furnished by the California Association of Nurserymen, gardens in which many—and sometimes all—of the elements can be moved are becoming increasingly popular with Californians.

MANY PERSONS still erroneously believe, however, that the movable garden is a child of necessity—that it is strictly for those gardeners having only an apartment terrace, patio or at best a restricted ground area in which to work.

Still others are inclined to take the term too literally and associate "movable garden" with families or couples whose source of livelihood or other factors make it impossible for them to establish a home in one spot for any length of time.

OBVIOUSLY, the movable garden—with its emphasis on planters for larger shrubs and trees, containers for smaller plants and flowers, sectional fencing and portable board walks—is an ideal answer for those with restricted space or those who must frequently move.

But the movable garden has facets that transcend utility—reaching into the realm of staging and artistry. For when plants, shrubs and trees can be moved about your favorite specimens literally may be given the center of the stage as they burst into bloom.

WHEN THEY HAVE played their role, they can be moved into the background to be replaced by others just coming into bloom.

Make Gardening Family Project: Let Kids Help!

Does your week-end gardening sometimes seem to be a major chore?

If so, you have probably become overly ambitious in your efforts. To get the most fun out of gardening, go at it leisurely, says the California Association of Nurserymen.

Don't insist on doing all the work yourself, even though you are "the one member of the family with the know-how." Instead, get the youngsters to help.

Possibly you can arrange a small area where the kids can have a garden of their own, with you to oversee them and teach them proper methods.

A vegetable garden is fine for this. They'll have the fun of doing something along with the grownups, and maybe do their bit to reduce the cost of living with the edibles they furnish the family table.

Espalier Pruning

By The California Association of Nurserymen

Your Gardener's Checklist offers the following advice this week:

1. Plants grown as espaliers should be pruned and trained throughout the year. Consult your nurseryman for pruning procedures.

2. If you failed to get tuberous begonias planted earlier, you are still not too late. Most nurseries are offering seedling begonia plants at this time.

3. This is also the planting season for dahlia tubers and gladiolus bulbs. A sequence of gladiolus blooms result from plantings at two-week intervals.

4. Thrip injury on gladiolus can be prevented by the application of improved dusts or sprays.

5. Spring is a most favorable time to seed new lawns. Lawns planted now will become established before the summer hot weather.

Rhododendrons For Mother's Day

A "growing gift" is always a gift to be remembered.

A spectacular shrub, available in many varieties, the rhododendron blooms successively in a myriad of pastel shades from winter through late spring. You might start mother's collection with a spring flowering hybrid this Mother's Day and add to it next season with an earlier or later blooming specimen.

Join 'War' Against Trash Dumps!

"Spring is a wonderful season in our area —except for the illegal trash dumps which seem to have a habit of blossoming along with the springtime flowers," one of the many Diablo Valley nature lovers was heard to remark the other day.

We agree with that observation—except that it's necessary to point out that trash dumps don't just "blossom" by themselves. They're placed wherever they are by people.

Such accumulations of rubbish are far more than mere eyesores. In addition to being offensive to our aesthetic sensitivities, they are a menace to health—in violation of the State Health and Safety Code.

Many of the people who are responsible for these rubbish dumps have done their disservice unwittingly. An empty milk carton here, some waxed paper there, a few empty beer cans—these may be dropped alongside a road because the spot seems convenient.

But stop to consider. Someone else comes along, sees these items and thinks, "Looks like a good spot to leave those old magazines." The magazines are left there. And pretty soon an old bedspring makes its appearance in the heap. Then a discarded wringer from an old washing machine. Plus assorted orange and lemon peelings, of varied colors and in different degrees of decomposition.

Does this sound far-fetched? It is exactly what has been happening at a number of places. County authorities, including the sheriff's office, urge public cooperation against these blemishes and are "cracking down" on offenders.

Officials of the Walnut Creek Judicial District have "declared war" on roadside rubbish dumpers. They have asked residents of Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Orinda, Moraga and Canyon to cooperate by reporting license numbers and descriptions of autos from which offenders are seen littering roadsides and by reporting time of occurrence.

County ordinance provides $500 fine and/or six months in jail as maximum penalty. Judge Clifford Thomson of the Justice Court has promised full cooperation.

Constable Clinton Janes has stated that future violators will be prosecuted.

Civic pride and our sense of responsibility should be enough to deter us from contributing to these illegal rubbish dumps. Now we are all forewarned—those who deposit rubbish and trash illegally are to be prosecuted.

Those good citizens who have not realized how serious their offense is will not need further admonition. And we hope they will join the many individuals and the organizations which have been actively campaigning against this sort of thing and who have been cooperating with the authorities.

The sheriff's office stresses that it is important to witness violators in action and to get license numbers of violators' cars. Prompt reporting of violations is a public service.

The Canyon Community Club deserves a special accolade of thanks for its effective action in calling attention of county authorities to the rubbish-dump situation.

Extent of the rubbish-dumping is indicated by the fact that it recently took a crew of county prisoners, used by the sheriff's office in cleaning up littered roadsides, four days to pick up trash along a 9-mile stretch of road.

The problem is not peculiar to Central Contra Costa County. That "litterbugs" are offenders elsewhere is shown by the California State Chamber of Commerce's drive to "Help Keep Our Roadsides Clean," as well as by East Bay Municipal Utility District's instruction to its patrolmen to be on the lookout for persons who dump garbage and refuse anywhere in its watershed areas and its warning that prosecutions will follow.

Most of the residents of Central Contra Costa County take pride in their homes and their community. With the spotlight now focused on the "litterbug" problem and its threat to health, we feel certain that the people generally will join in the all-out effort to make the community—which includes the roadsides and hillsides—safe and clean.

Delinquency Rise Shown by Report

Sharp increases in juvenile delinquency statistics were revealed in the annual report for 1953 of County Probation Officer John A. Davis.

In line with the national trend, the increases "are not cause for alarm, they should be cause for sober thought on the part of all citizens interested in the welfare of youth," Davis said.

BOYS' DELINQUENCY rose from 626 to 911 cases, 45 per cent more than the year before, while cases involving girls rose 66 per cent, from 176 to 292.

The average population in Juvenile Hall was the same as in the previous year, but the average stay was reduced and admissions were increased.

DAVIS URGED cooperation with the Citizens' Committee for a Rehabilitation Camp for Boys and said he hoped the Board of Supervisors would approve such a camp this year.

He complimented supervisors on the reorganization of Juvenile Hall approved last December, saying, "For the first time, it is properly staffed and the structure is balanced with an adequate number of supervisory positions."

How About Daylight Saving Time?

Daylight Saving Time is here.

Changing the clock around by man-made legislation is a somewhat tricky business, and Daylight Saving Time is quite controversial in some circles.

The SUN thought it might call up a few people this week and ask them, "What does Daylight Saving Time mean to You?"

And here are the answers:

"A HEADACHE," said Mrs. Franklin H. Ernst, 139 Canon Drive, Orinda. "I don't like it. First, I grew up on a farm and I don't see any sense to it. It mixes things up. Some things run on standard time, others on Daylight Saving Time, and others on both, and it's just a mess in general.

"Also, little folks who start for school, especially in the cities, are apt to run into the 'early twilight zone.' That's dangerous for crossing streets in the early morning."

MRS. ROBERT ESHLEMAN of Springhill Road, Lafayette, said, "That's controversial. I just wish it didn't start until school was out. Too many wakeful children late at night this way . . . they don't like to go to bed while it's still light."

"I like it," said Mrs. Boyd Eubank, 28 Lavina Court, Orinda. "I like the daylight after my husband gets home from work so I can put him to work. Of course, we like to eat outdoors, too."

CHARLES EVANS JR., 3316 Victoria Avenue, Lafayette, commented, "I like it. I work until about 5 or 6 p.m. and then when I get home can get a little work done on the outside. There's alway enough to do."

Dick Johnson of 104 Gregory Lane, Peasant Hill, answered, "I'm a college student, and it gives me one hour more of study time."

"I've got a brand new baby and it meant I lost a lot of sleep that first night," said Mrs. R. C. Gillette of 285 Gladys Drive, Pleasant Hill. "But I'll enjoy the long evenings."

"WELL, NOT very much, it kind of confuses the children, that's all," replied Mrs. James J. Young of 1823 Magnolia Court, Walnut Creek.

"With me it's quite all right. It's no great problem and it won't disrupt the household," replied Mrs. Glenn Belford of 2907 Eccleston Avenue, Walnut Creek.

PTA Council Asks Clothing Donations

The Mt. Diablo Council of Parents and Teachers, assisted by parents' clubs, can provide clothing for any school child referred by the school nurse or school attendance and guidance personnel.

A clothing room has been in operation at the old Concord Elementary School, Willow Pass Road, Concord, since September, 1953. The room has been staffed by volunteers from the PTA units and parents' clubs.

More clothing is needed. Clean, wearable clothing may be delivered to the clothing room any Monday morning between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Donations for the purchase of shoes are welcome and may be made to Mrs. Richard P. Uelson, financial secretary, 101 Gordan Road, Walnut Creek.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

Construction started this spring on a residence on Sleepy Hollow Lane which is a flagrant violation of the local building restrictions.

Adobe is being used for the building material, and proper design and construction practices such as the use of reinforcing have apparently been ignored.

This condition is so bad that walls have actually fallen apart and have had to be rebuilt in some places several times.

Lighting and plumbing are clearly substandard, and, although the premises are now occupied, no sewer connection has yet been made.

Side yard requirements have been disregarded to the extent that the structure is in actual contact with an existing house.

It is questionable if title to the site can have been legally obtained. No building permit is posted.

One would think that those enforcing the restrictions or at least policing the area for violations must have observed what is going on.

The explanation of the fact that no action has been taken must be that it is the home of a family of swallows.

WILLIAM M. BROBECK,
120 Sleepy Hollow Lane,
Orinda.

Dear Editor:

Recently a reprint from the September 1951, issue of Oral Hygiene came into my hands entitled "The Argument Against Fluoridating City Water" by George A. Swendiman, D.D.S., Grand Forks, N.D.

Dr. Swendiman says: "In my opinion, the dental association proposes to treat an effect rather than to eliminate a cause. The prime causes of tooth decay, as every dentist knows, are candy, soft drinks and refined foods.

"A courageous association would attack the consumption of these health-destroying foods, not just experiment with medicines to treat a symptom. Every dentist realizes that natural, nutritious foods promote good teeth and good health."

We parents can start today to do something about our children's teeth by giving them whole wheat bread, not just any whole wheat bread but that which contains no harmful bleaches or preservatives, and natural sweets.

Study 'Congress And the Budget'

A panel discussion on "Congress and the Budget" high-lighted the local League of Women Voters meeting April 26 in Williams School, Concord.

Mrs. R. J. O'Dea and Mrs. James Kaye of the Berkeley league explained the budgetary procedures of Congress with emphasis on recently proposed reforms.

A study of local government will begin in league study units next week. The Monday evening group met Monday at the home of Mrs. Dierdre Katz, 2104 Holbrook Drive, Concord. The Thursday afternoon group met yesterday, hosted by Mrs. Donald Judd, 31 David Court, Walnut Creek.

May 12 the Walnut Creek group will meet at the home of Mrs. Monroe Smith, 355 Marshall Drive, Walnut Creek.

Under The Sun

By Herman Silverman

For whom should I vote for sheriff?

Who should get my vote for sheriff?

This question is popping up with increasing frequency, so let's analyze the race. Leading the field now is:

John A. Miller. John has been vigirously campaigning for the past seven months and by June will have visited almost every home in the county. He is a very personable, persuasive candidate with thousands of friends. The name Miller is political magic in this county. Miller is the man to beat. If there were one less candidate in the race, Miller could win at the primary.

But the vote will be split sufficiently, so that Miller will oppose Richardson or Brown in the general.

Let's look at Miller's record

Well, let's look at his record. He was sheriff from 1935 to 1943. Older residents will tell you that gambling and vice were rampant during his administration. You could walk into almost any restaurant and find the slot machine, they say.

Now, in justice to John you must realize that this was a "cow county" and gambling was accepted. Nevertheless, Miller permitted it. But worse yet—John's brother was reportedly one of the slot machine operators.

John emphatically declares that "my brother never owned a slot machine." And that is probably true——he never owned a machine. But John will not answer the question directly about his brother controlling the machines.

Those whispers about money

How did John do financially as sheriff? He has been accused in whispers of many things. He left the sheriff's post to serve for four years as a $1-a-year coordinator of civil defense during the war. (This is to his credit.) As head of the County Sheriff's Posse and on his own, Miller, with Mrs. Miller, has traveled to Hawaii, Canada, Africa, Washington, D.C., and the Mardi Gras. Whispers ask how he got the money!

John has spread his income tax forms on the counter of The SUN. We did not check them. And he offers to show them to anyone.

He declares they have a 5-room house, 1948 car, no children, eat on $150 monthly and have paid for the trips by "dipping into our savings, which we have worked 40 long years to accumulate. And, while we are at it, I never buried any money in the ground or hid any income of any kind."

Yes, he is a frank, disarming candidate. He recently told me: "Okay, let's forget about the past — I promise to do a very good job enforcing the laws tomorrow."

In any event, I cannot vote for Miller in the primary because of his past record.

Richardson's in the other corner

And in the other corner is — B. W. "Dick" Richardson, former highway patrolman, and Richmond constable. Dick will probably take second in the primary and face Miller in the general.

He is the candidate of the county machine, Sheriff Long and apparently William Pechart, the county's gambling czar. Observers expect that thousands upon thousands of dollars will be spent in behalf of Richardson; $80,000 is a figure now being quoted.

The pressure is really on. The WORD has been given — support Richardson. Despite civil service regulations, some of Long's deputies are actively working for him. Politicians who want to support Brown or Miller are being brought into Richardson's camp.

Dick Richardson is a very likeable fellow. He has a law enforcement background, fraternal affiliations, good appearance and speaking ability.

When he announced he was going to run four years ago, he immediately earned enthusiastic support from many, many citizens interested in good government. The campaign was under way.

Was it a double-cross?

Then, it happened.

Suddenly Richardson announced he was pulling out. Thousands of his supporters felt they were double-crossed. He then was granted a 30-day leave of absence as constable and he took off for a trip. When he returned, he was appointed coordinator of Richmond civil defense and later was given another job as manager of the Richmond Auditorium.

Why did Richardson withdraw in 1950?

In this writer's office several weeks ago, I interviewed Dick for two hours. He said it is an "unfounded lie" that he withdrew from the sheriff's race for "50,000 bucks" or that he had been promised the two good political appointments, which he now holds.

He admitted he withdrew after a conversation with Sheriff Long, who wanted to run again. Did Sheriff Long promise to support him later for sheriff?

"I took it for granted that is what he meant. But he didn't say withdraw," the candidate answered.

Dick says he wasn't really a candidate

Richardson says he was not really a candidate, but was only contemplating his possibilities.

To be blunt: That is not true.

Richardson admits he received $5000 in campaign funds. Asked if he returned $3000 to Miller in $20 bills, Richardson replies:

"I don't recall. I can't honestly say."

Bill Scanlon, the public relations expert, was to manage his campaign. Richardson toured the county as a candidate.

Scanlon brought him to The SUN and introduced him as a candidate. I, in turn, introduced Richardson at a Chamber of Commerce meeting, where he spoke in behalf of his candidacy.

Richardson admits all this. "Your chamber here is the only time I talked to a group."

Anyway, I certainly cannot vote for Richardson.

Also on the firing line are Fred Nettles, Daryl Hutchins and Major F. Slater — all are perennial candidates for one office or another.

Nettles, a very pleasant guy, has been pushing doorbells for months and will pick up some votes. Fred, a Pacheco window display man, ran in 1950 and enjoys amateur policing. But he can hardly be considered seriously as a candidate.

Slater, from Pleasant Hill, filed for the office but doesn't seem to be campaigning.

Hutchins was a candidate for the State Senate in 1950, an aspirant for Congress this year and at the last moment jumped into the sheriff's race. I don't think he seriously considers himself a candidate.

What about Harry A. Brown?

I've purposely saved until the last the name of Harry A. Brown, who lives in Alamo with his smart and charming wife, Dolly, and their seven kids.

Of the three major candidates, Harry is the only one whose past record is clean, without a hint of scandal, payoff, political machine, etc. — as far as I can determine. Harry, 47, has had 20 years in the Navy at various times, serving as an enlisted man and an officer. His record in naval battles during the last war is impressive.

Much of his naval career was in policing. He was Chief Master of Arms at Hunters Point, policing 7000 people. From 1935 to '40 he was with the customs service as an inspector and special agent, narcotics. In 1951 he became a Contra Costa deputy sheriff. Later he took the Civil Service exam for lieutenant along with 131 other police officers from all over the Bay Area. He was No. 1 and became one of the top men in Long's department.

I mention Long's name at this point because some say Harry was put into the race to help split the vote in the primary, so Miller wouldn't just walk right in.

You'll be able to see the major sheriff candidates at the Candidates' Debate sponsored by The SUN June 2 at the Acalanes High School Gym. Come and decide for yourself.

He's the only man I can support

Until I see some damaging evidence against him, Harry Brown is the only man I can support. Apparently others in this area feel the same. The "amateurs" in our communities, Democrats and Republicans alike, are starting the ball rolling for Brown.

But only a miracle can put him across. He needs at least $8000 in campaign funds, a good campaign manager, a well-developed campaign and lots of enthusiastic workers.

So far, I understand, he has $2000 — money saved by his wife for their children — and a few promises. Some people have donated some campaign printing. But he needs much more money. (If you wish to contribute $1 and up, send it to Harry Brown Campaign, c/o Clovey LaCroix, 240 Kirk Crest Road, Danville.)

Regardless of his chances, I sincerely believe that we should support a fellow who is willing to stick his chin out and do what he thinks is right. Brown has a lot to lose — his good job. Certainly his position as lieutenant would be difficult, serving under one of the candidates he now opposes.
